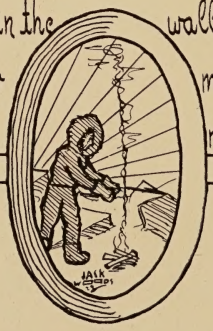
FOREWORD

We have sought to portray on the pages of this issue of the Handlian the theme: "The Spirit of Conquest as embodied in Commander Richard E. Byrd".

By the use of appropriate drawings and designs throughout the book, we have endeavored to illustrate this theme.

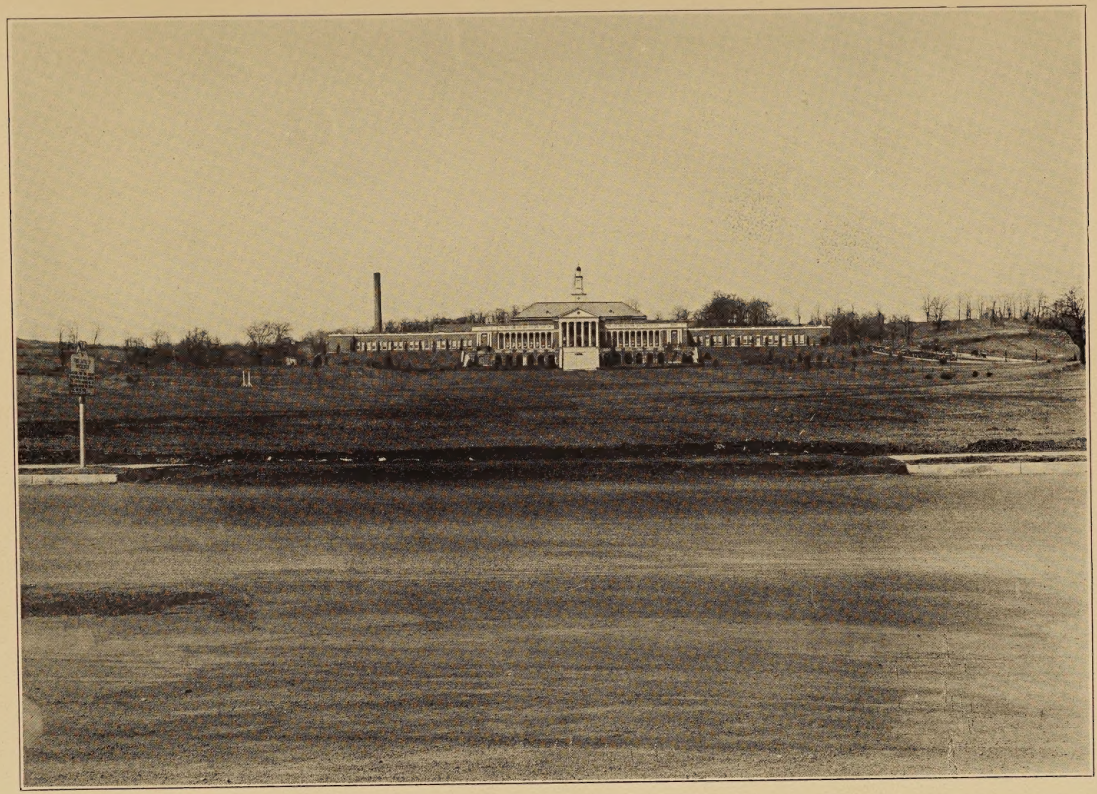
We hope that this volume, offered as a memento of our final year passed in the walls of our Alma Mater will refresh your minds in the future with pleasant memories of Handley.



"These beauteous forms,
Through a long absence, will not be to me,
As is a landscape to a blind man's eye;
But oft, in lonely rooms, and 'mid the din
Of towns and cities, I shall owe to them,
In hours of weariness, sensations sweet,
Felt in the blood, and felt along the heart;
And passing even into my purer mind,
With tranquil restoration."

WORDSWORTH.

"One touch of nature makes the whole world kin."



"Ever charming, ever new, when will the landscape tire the view."

"Life is to be fortified by many friendships. To love and to be loved is the greatest happiness of existence."

"I love it for what it makes me forget, and for what it makes me remember."

"From out thy stately portals we have gone,
And yet to these our thoughts will e'er return."

Went, leaving us alone with saddened hearts

Time has erased the hurt from out our breasts,
But time can ne'er erase that precious bit
Of memories.

Mary Opal Robinson

Miss Robinson just can't be described—she is beyond description. She has all the qualities which go to make an excellent friend and each member of the Class of '29 is proud to claim her as such. As a sponsor she is wonderful. Never could we find words to express our appreciation, admiration, and love for her. She is simply ideal. She always knows what we are supposed to do and how we can best do it. Miss Robinson has guided us successfully and with untiring effort through the most trying and most important of all our school years, our Senior year. She seems to us to be the embodiment of all that is noble and beautiful. Our opinion of her might be partially expressed in the following quotation from Shakespeare:

"We would laud her to the very echo
That should applaud her back again."

Withrow R. Legge

We only obtained Mr. Legge for our sponsor in our last year at Handley, but we can truthfully say he is an ideal in whom there is no failing. Mr. Legge goes into everything with his whole heart and soul. This is one of the many traits, which characterizes this splendid type of Southern gentleman. He will always be remembered in the hearts and minds of every member of the Class of '29. He has given to us, all of his available time and efforts, for which we are sincerely grateful. He is always speaking words of encouragement, always greeting us with a smile, and with his humor and wit. He knows no motive but interest; and he has helped sponsor us through our last year at Handley.

Class Poem

The beach lies sleeping in the pale gray mist,
Peaceful and quiet but for one dim sound,
The echo of our fast receding voices.

Along this shore for many years we've walked,
And here and there among its sands we've found
Those tiny hidden grains of longed-for knowledge.

All was well until a tiny hollow skiff
Made its calm way softly to our shore,
And some voice bade us hasten and embark.

We stepped into the ship and now at length
The shore has slowly dimmer, dimmer grown
Until 'tis just an outline 'gainst the sky.

With tear-dimmed eyes and saddened hearts,
We turn to take one lingering precious glance
At that great shore which we have loved so well.

LAURA VIRGINIA ASHLEY

"Only bid me sing, I will enchant thine ear
Like a fairy trips across the green."

Commercial Course; Gen. Org.; French Club '28; Glee Club '27, '28, '29; Junior Red Cross; Dramatic Club '27, '28.

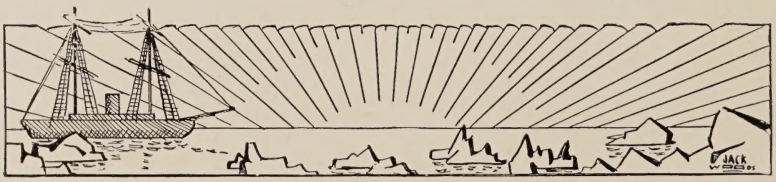
GINNY is not heard from very often, but, when she speaks, we all listen very attentively, for we know she will have something worth while to say. It is a delight to hear Ginny sing. She is one of the best singers in the Handley Girls' Glee Club. She is always right on the spot when there is any work to be done for her class. We all consider her the quintessence of cheerfulness, industry, music, and school spirit—a true representative of Handley. Hurrah for Ginny, a faithful member of the Class of '29.

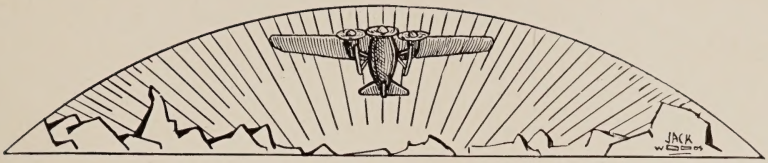
CHALMERS BAGEANT

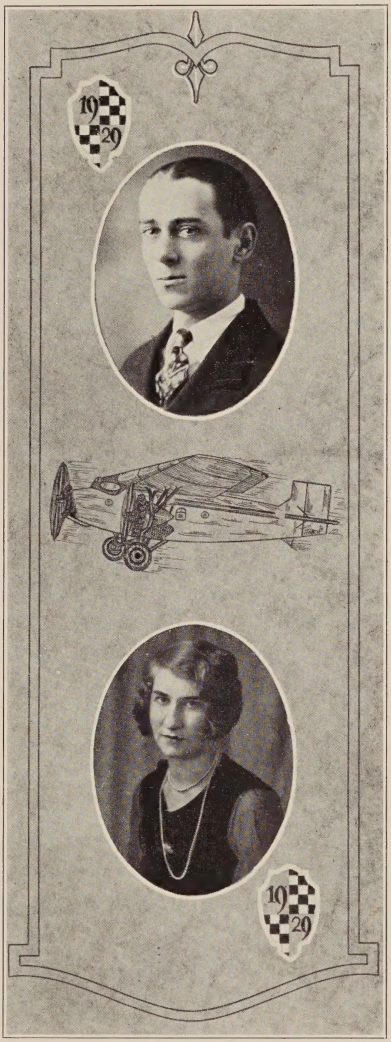
"Through labor to rest; through combat to victory."

Academic Course; Gen. Org.; Junior Red Cross; Track Team '26, '27, '28, '29; Capt. Track '27; Military Training; Sergeant Co. A '29; Basketball '27; H Club '27.

CHALMERS certainly has established an excellent record in athletics at Handley. He has excelled especially in track. Besides the many extra-curricular activities in which he has engaged he has maintained a very good scholastic record. Chalmers is one of our most loyal classmates and has done a great deal of work for the Class of '29. We do not know what he expects to do when he finishes at Handley, but some day we expect to hear of him as a competitor in the Olympics.







ROWLAND THORNTON BRYARLY III

"Every man to his own business."

General Course; Gen. Org.; Cadet Corps Corporal '28; Band '26, '27, '28, '29; Orchestra '27, '28, '29; Rifle team '27, '28, '29; Asst. Business Mgr. HANDLIAN '29; Executive Council '29; First Lieut. '29; Junior Red Cross; Testator.

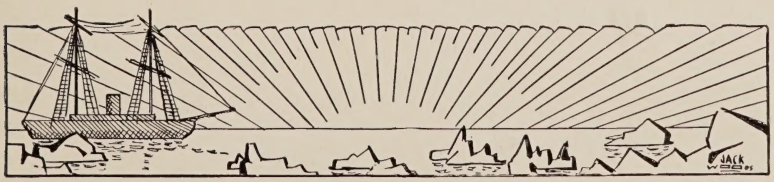
THORNTON is one of the best-liked fellows in our merry crew. A witty, happy, rollicking, good student who never fails to make friends wherever he goes. Although not one of our athletic stars, he is instilled with plenty of pep and school spirit. He is a member of our basketball squad and also the business staff of the HANDLIAN. His saxophone, from which issues many "moaning melodies',, has earned a place for him in our band and orchestra. Next year Thornton is going to Langley field to study aviation.

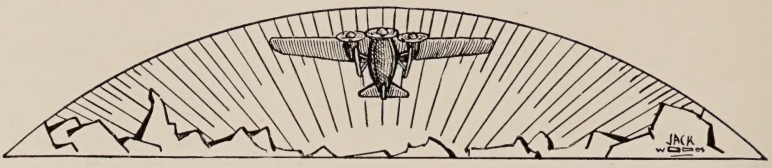
CAROLINE BAHLMAN

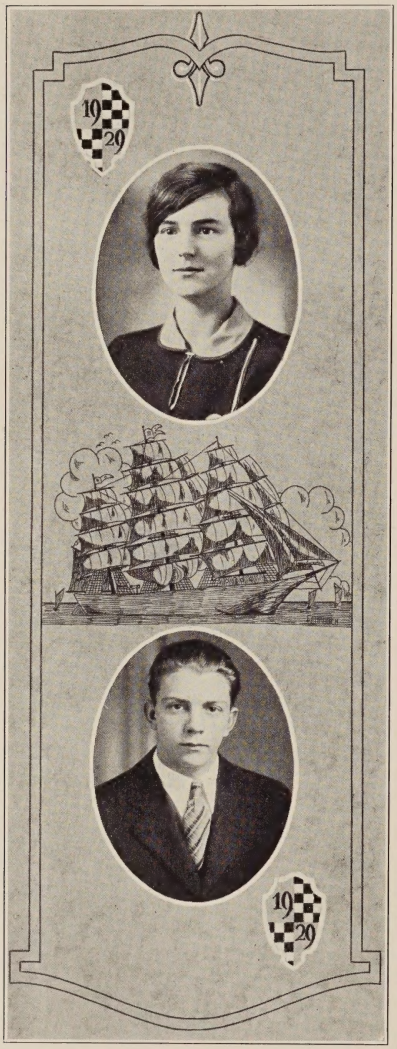
"Genius begins great works; labor alone finishes them."

General Course; Gen. Org.; Junior Red Cross; Sec. Class '27, '28, '29; Sec. Dramatic Club '27.

CAROLINE is one of the nicest of the senior girls. She is just the quiet, courteous, sincere type which one likes to have as a friend. She has participated in class activities and has been secretary of our class for three years. Without her untiring help, we do not know what the class would have done. We do not know exactly what Caroline will do after she leaves Handley, but if she continues to be the persevering and lovable girl she has been at Handley, she is sure to gain happiness.







MARY LOIS BATES

"Lois is a sweet girl,
With hardly much to say,
But when the lessons roll around,
She is a shining ray."

Academic Course; Gen. Org.; Junior Red Cross; French Club '28, Dramatic Club '28.

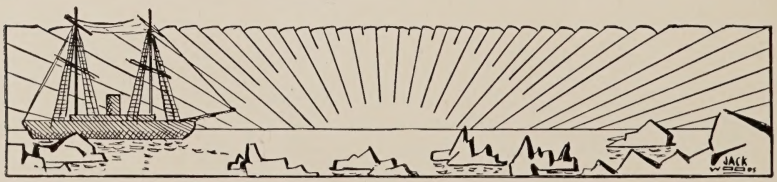
LOIS is one of those few, but valuable persons, who say little, but do much. She is very, very industrious. In the two years she has been with us she has accomplished more than some of us could have done in twice that time. She came to us from Stephens City High School, where she had been awarded the medal for the best all-around girl in the eighth grade. She has proven to us that she well-deserved the distinction. Handley will lose a valuable student when she loses Lois.

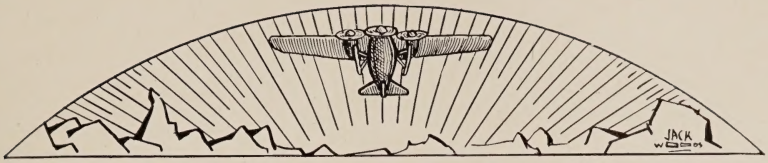
CARL CAMPBELL

"There's honesty, manhood, and good fellowship in thee."

General Course; Gen. Org.; Dramatic Club '27, '28; Football '28, '29; Military Training '27, '28, Corp. Co. A; Phys. Ed. '29; Treas. Class '29; Junior Red Cross; Asst. Rep. of Room; Track '29.

HERE is a true Handleyite in every sense of the word. Besides being an excellent student, Carl is a valuable man on the gridiron, and wins his "H" along with the other mighty men. Carl also has executive and business ability, as shown by his being treasurer of our class. He is one of the most dependable and loyal Seniors, and has never refused to do anything which he thought would benefit his class or school. Swinging no mean golf club, Carl may turn out to be a "champ".



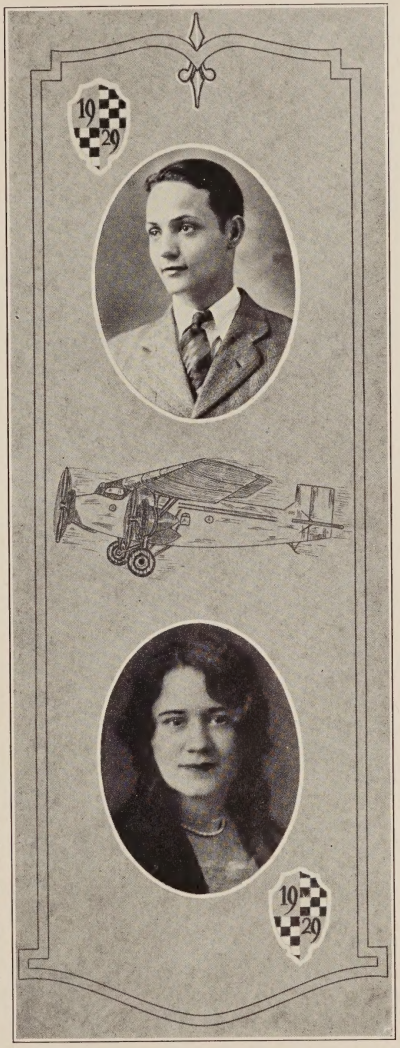


RICHARD CARPENTER

"Was gracious to all folk."

General Course; Gen. Org.; Junior Red Cross; Phys. Ed.; Football '26, '27, '28; Football Manager '29; Basketball '26, '29; Dramatic Club '27, '28.

DICK is an absolutely necessary unit of our class. He is always ready for a "lark" and his cheery smile and "hello" have endeared him to all of us. Dick has what is known as an "athletic" temperament and has won many games for Handley, both in football and basketball. One of the ever-growing class of "sheiks", he is doomed to final enslavement by ribbons and laces. It may be truthfully said of Richard that he is considered as a friend by all of his classmates.

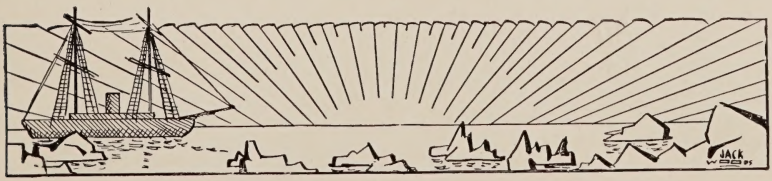


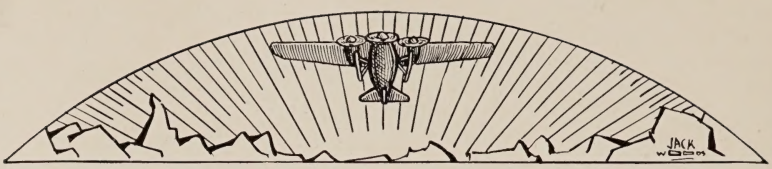
HELEN ANNE BUCKLEY

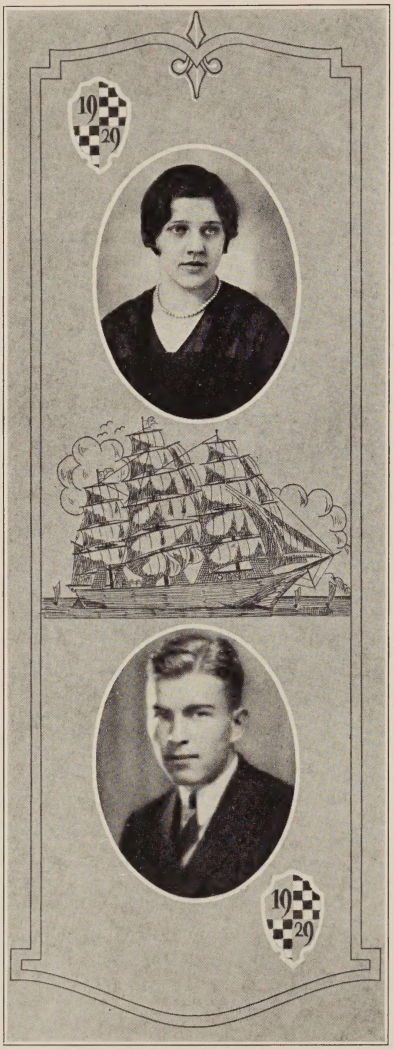
"Light of heart, light of step,
Quick of wit, full of pep."

Academic Course; Gen. Org.; Glee Club '27, '28; Dramatic Club '27, '28; Junior Red Cross.

HELEN had just about convinced us that we were going to have to do without her when she moved to Michigan with her family in the fall, but she could not resist the call of Virginia when spring came, and so she returned to us. She is one of the most attractive girls Handley has ever known, and she dances and sings well. Helen always has had a cheerful word for everyone, and has been an earnest student. Yet, with all she has time for plenty of fun.







VERNA ISABELLE CAIN

"Good temper is like a summer day;
It sheds brightness on everything."

General Course; Gen. Org.; Junior Red Cross; Dramatic Club '27, '28.

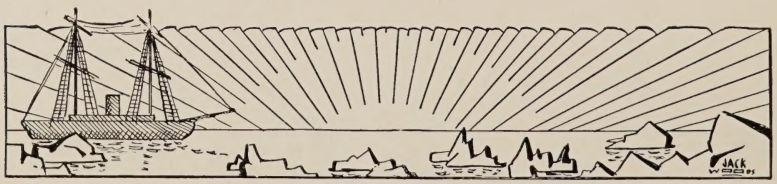
THOUGH she has been with us only three years, Izzy has won her way into all hearts with her friendly, chummy manner. Her giggle with its little "eek, eek" at the end is a constant source of delight to everyone,—except her teachers, and even they have been known to smile at times. She is so perfectly unconscious of self and so friendly that people just naturally have to love her. She is taking a general course. She thinks she may be a stenographer when she leaves school, but we're not so certain.

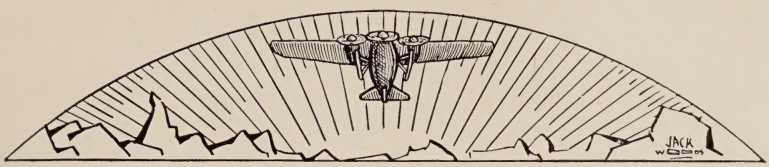
STANLEY CLEVENGER

"Wordly wise, exceedingly clever, and in every role whatever, up-to-date."

General Course; Gen. Org.; Football '26, '27, '28; Basketball '27; Track '28, '29; Military Training '25; Corp. '26, First Sergt. '27; Dramatic Club '26, '27; Phys. Ed. '29; Athletic Editor Trail Blazer '28; Athletic Editor HANDLIAN '29; Junior Red Cross; F. F. V. '27, '28.

"STAN" is manliness, sincerity, and wholesomeness personified. His every look, action, and word hint of good qualities within. Moreover, his outward appearance is in keeping with his subtle virtues, for he is always neat and well-groomed. Stan has made a name for himself at Handley. If prophecies are effective, we predict that the same spirit of determination and fair play that has sent him ripping through an opponent's line will bring him victory in life's battles. He has won a place among Handley's athletes that will be difficult to fill.





WILLIAM CLEVENGER

"For he was jes' the quiet kind whose natures never vary."

General Course; Gen. Org.; Military Training '27, '28, '29; Band '26, '27, '28, '29; Orchestra '28, '29; Dramatic Club '27, '28; Junior Red Cross.

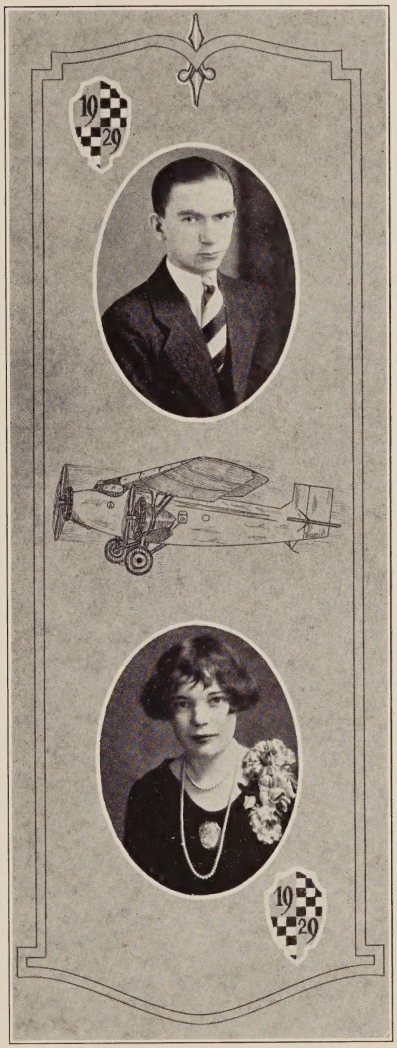
WILLIE is one of those without whom the class would not very well do. He is very quiet, but when he does talk we all sit up and take notice. He is one of the best musicians in the Band and Orchestra, and we know these organizations will miss him greatly next year. Willie is a persevering and industrious boy. And dance, well, you should see him dance. In a few words, he is a success in almost everything and we expect to hear great things of him in the future.

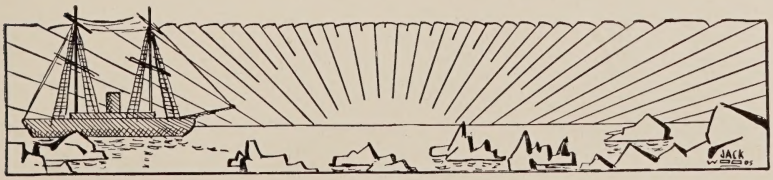
ANNA BELLE CAPPER

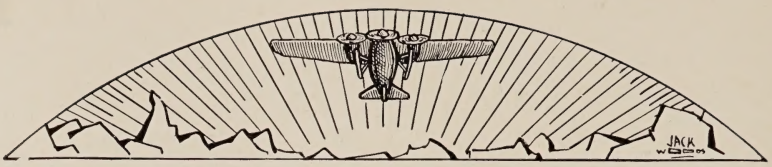
"Though her ways are quiet, yet steady and sure,
Are the thoughts of this maiden demure."

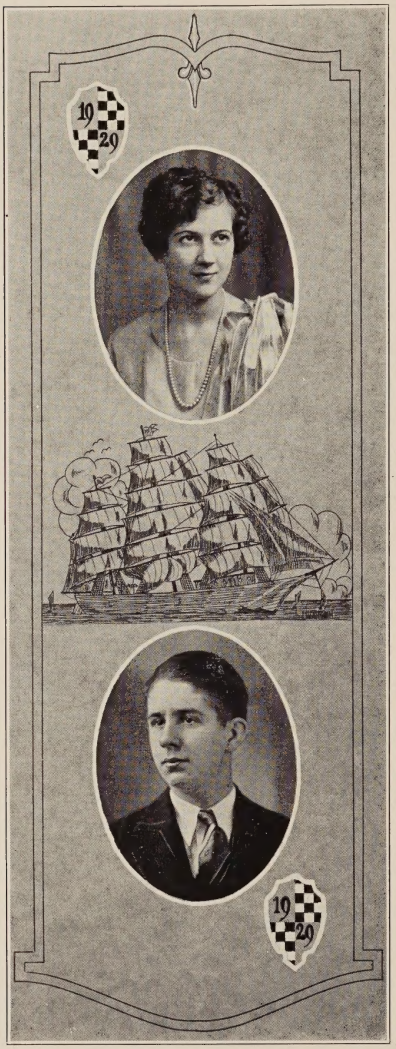
General Course; Gen. Org.; Junior Red Cross; Dramatic Club '27, '28; S. P. Q. R. '27.

ANNA BELLE is one of our quieter Seniors. She talks little about the things she has accomplished which, undoubtedly, is "an excellent thing in woman." She is one of the few who are unexcitable enough to be called dignified. This demure maiden seems to have been born under a lucky sign. How well we remember the morning in Assembly when Anna Belle sedately walked up on the stage to receive her two dollars and a half gold piece, which was her reward for being fortunate enough to have sat in the lucky seat at "The First Year." Anna Belle expects to enter training for a nurse after she leaves Handley.









MARY CATHER

"And when she played it seemed as if it were the passing of exquisite music."

General Course; Gen. Org.; Cheer Leader Orange Jackets '29; Sec. Dramatic Club '28; Glee Club '26, '27, '28, '29; Bohemian Literary Society '28, '29; Junior Red Cross; Assistant Business Manager HANDLIAN '29; Phys. Ed.

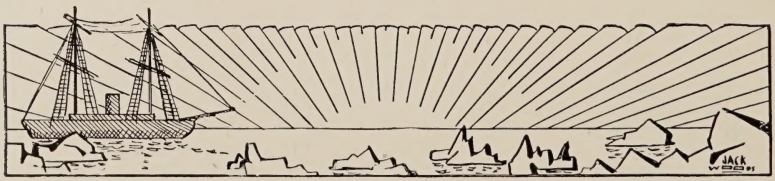
MARY is one of those petite, good-looking girls, with heaps of brains. She has been with us all through school and she has become a very important factor in our class. Mary is the soul of music—she can play almost anything from "She's Got Eyes of Blue" to the hardest composition by Chopin. She has entered heartily into all school activities and has established a name for herself in each. Mary probably will study at Oberlin next year. We expect to hear great things of her some day.

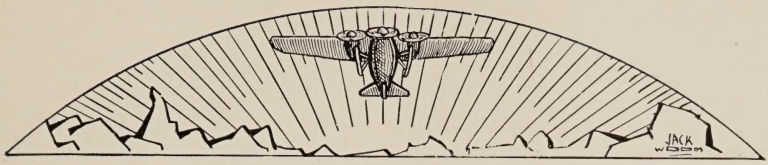
RICHARD KURTZ EDDY

"Makes life worth while."

Academic Course; Gen. Org.; Military Training '27, '28, '29; Band '27, '28, '29; Orchestra '28, '29; Bohemian Literary Society 29; Junior Red Cross.

DICK is a seemingly quiet, unobtrusive member of our class, but he proves that one can't always go by looks. In reality he is quite mischievous and can make as much noise as any of the rest of us. Despite the fact that he is somewhat bashful upon first meeting a person, he soon conquers this. Though Dick does not enter in athletics, he is a faithful attendant and booster of the games. He is a member of the band and orchestra and plays first French horn. Next year he is going to Washington and Lee.



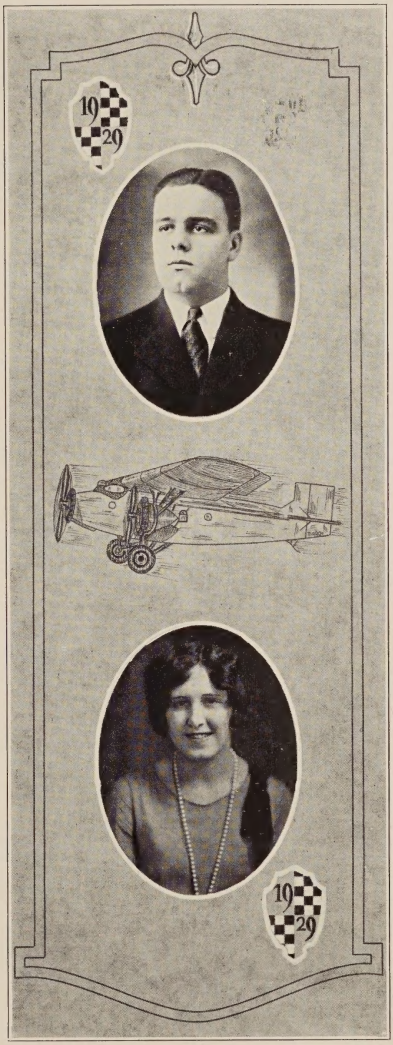


JOHN FISHER

"The only way to have a friend is to be one."

Academic Course; Military Training '26; Corporal Co. A '27; Sergeant Co. A '28; President Class '27, '28, '29; Band '26, '27, 28, '29; Orchestra '27, '28, '29; Gen. Org.; Junior Red Cross; Football '26, '27, '28, '29; Executive Council '27

MISCHIEVOUS at times, dignified at times, and friendly at all times, that is John Fisher. He has entered into all school activities, specializing in athletics. We don't know how the football team will do without John next year. It is almost needless to say how much we all like him since we have elected him president of our class,—the greatest honor we can give anyone. If you could see John presiding over our class meetings, you would say that we had made a wise choice. We know we have.

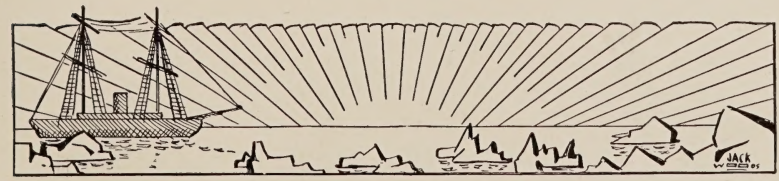


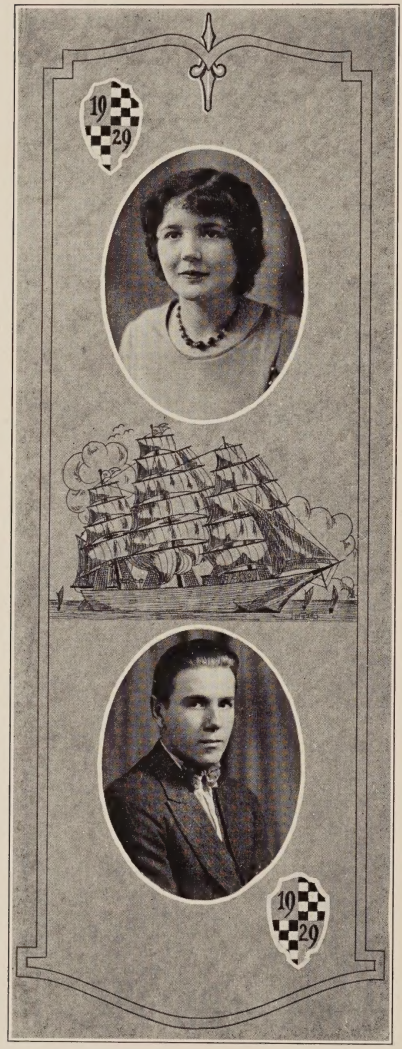
MARTHA CUTHBERT

"Good actions crown themselves with loving ways;
Who deserves well, needs not another's praise."

Academic Course; Gen. Org.; Junior Red Cross; Glee Club '29; Dramatic Club '29; Bohemian Literary Society '29.

AT the beginning of this year Martha was a stranger to a number of us, but goodness, you can't be a stranger to Martha long. Her grin and happy little giggle have become something without which we couldn't do. In a short time she has become a typical Handley student. Martha says that she is considering nursing and we are sure she will do excellently. However, we predict that in the course of a few years we will be able to look up among the clouds and see Martha and a certain aviator.





GEORGIA GLASS FOREMAN

"Pretty, attractive, nice and sweet,
Her girlish nature is quite complete."

Commercial Course; Gen. Org.; Dramatic Club '28, '29; Junior Red Cross; Glee Club '29; Physical Ed. '28.

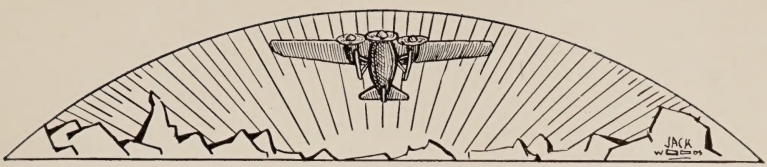
GEORGIA has brown eyes and red, red cupid bow lips which are mighty attractive. She can assume any number of expressions ranging from very daredevilish to extremely innocent. The innocent one is usually assumed for the benefit of the teachers while the daredevilish is for the students when the teacher has turned around. Besides these very captivating charms, Georgia has shown quite a remarkable talent along dramatic lines. We do not know what Georgia intends to do next year, but we are sure she will gain her part in the world.

BROOKS FLICKINGER

"Thou art worthy, full of power."

Academic Course; Gen. Org.; Track '28, '29; Football '28; Special Gym Team '27, '29; Bohemian Literary Society; Junior Red Cross.

WHEN one hears the name of Brooks Flickinger, he immediately thinks of athletics. He came to Handley two years ago, and at that time the attention of the entire school was drawn to him because of his performance of unusual athletic feats. Not only is he an athlete, but also a splendid student. He is a most desirable member of the class because he supports all of its undertakings with the utmost fidelity. Next year he will go, probably, to the University of Virginia. Any school will be fortunate indeed to receive such a student.

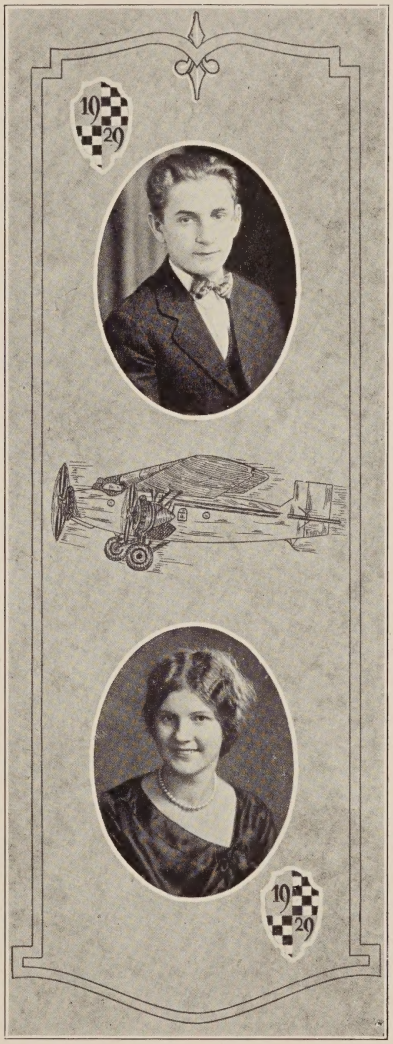


WALTER FLICKINGER

"He always has a cheerful face,
An excellent thing in this world."

Academic Course; Production Mgr. Bohemian Literary Society '28; Vice-Pres. Bohemian Lit. Society '29; Track Team '28; Gym Team '28, '29; Dramatic Club '28; Gen. Org.; Junior Red Cross.

HERE we have a youth with a pleasant, courteous, happy-go-lucky disposition. Walter is one of our bright lads and is always willing to share his knowledge with his neighbors. He is an all-around athlete, plays soccer and basketball, and is a member of the "gym" team. We do not know what will claim Walter's attention when he is through high school. Probably he will go to college. His cheerfulness and willingness to work will carry him through many struggles. We predict that some day the world will hear great things of this Handleyite.

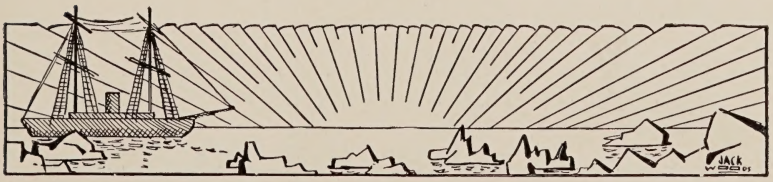


MADELINE BEATRICE FRIES

"'Tis well to be merry, witty, and wise."

Academic Course; Gen. Org.; Junior Red Cross; Orange Basketball Team '29; Phys. Ed.; Holmes Conrad Literary Society '26, '27, '28; Executive Council '27, '28; S. P. Q. R. '28, '29; Dramatic Club '28; Calendar Editor HANDLIAN '29; Associate Editor Trail Blazer '29; Historian.

MADELINE is one of our merriest and wittiest girls. She always leads the giggles in assembly. However, although she is full of fun, she also has a serious side to her character. She has an enviable reputation at Handley as a student and an orator. We hear that Madeline is planning to go into training in the local hospital next year.



MARIE WINIFRED FRIES

"A jolly good sport in rain and shine."

Academic Course; Junior Red Cross; Gen. Org.; Phys. Ed.; Holmes Conrad Literary Society '27, '28; Latin Club '28, '29; French Club '28; Vice-Pres. Dramatic Club '28; Captain Shamrock Volley Ball Team '29; Shamrock Basketball Team '28, '29; Captain Shamrock Track Team '28; Athletic Editor HANDLIAN '29; Sec. Shamrocks '29.

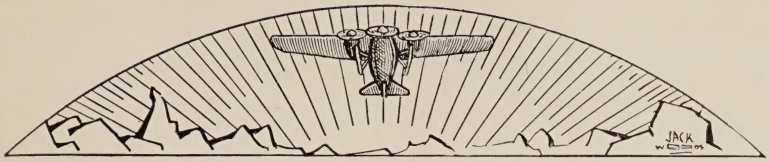
MARIE is one of those fortunate enough to have both beauty and brains. We know she is ready always to do anything for the sake of her class or school. She never shirks or lags, a fact which is proved by her excellent scholastic standing. It would seem that having endowed her with beauty and intelligence the fates would have considered that sufficient, but no, they made her, also, one of the best girl athletes at Handley. Marie expects to go to William and Mary College next year.

JOE FREED

"We live in deeds, not years."

Academic Course; Gen. Org.; Dramatic Club '27, Pres. '28; Junior Rep. HANDLIAN Staff '28; Ex-Consul S. P. Q. R. '28; President Gen. Org. '29; Editor-in-chief HANDLIAN '29; Co. B '27; Band '27, '28, '29; Orchestra '28, 29; Junior Red Cross.

JOE is a class leader of great ability. One look at this book will prove that. He is president of the Executive Council and also Editor-in-chief of the HANDLIAN this year. He is popular and also very, very versatile. As well as being a good student, Joe has appreciable talent in music. He has always been of the utmost value to our class and we esteem him highly.

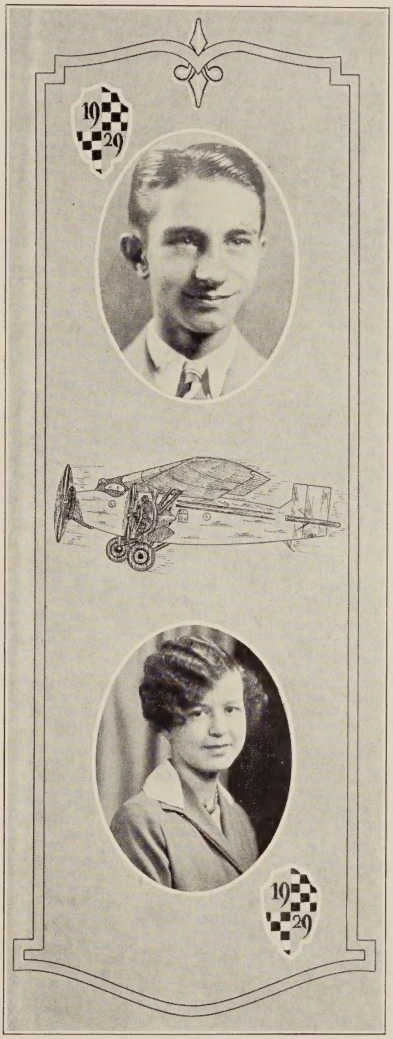


WILLIAM LENWOOD FULTZ

"Success is found in the word itself, the second letter."

Academic Course; Gen. Org.; Junior Red Cross; Photographic Editor HANDLIAN '29; Repr. Junior Red Cross '28; Military Training '27, '28, 29; Dramatic Club '28; Best Drilled Cadet '27; Rifle Team '29; 1st Lieutenant Co. A '29.

WE have in Lenwood a man who will go far in life. He is a very studious person and possesses an extraordinary amount of executive ability. However, the things that he knows best is how to be a friend. Lenwood is also a very good business man, for he can make the most stingy one of us give up his last quarter for some "worthy" cause. Whatever Lenwood does is well done, which is certainly a sterling quality. We do not know what he will do next year, but, with his amazing power to convince people that his ideas are correct, he certainly should succeed.

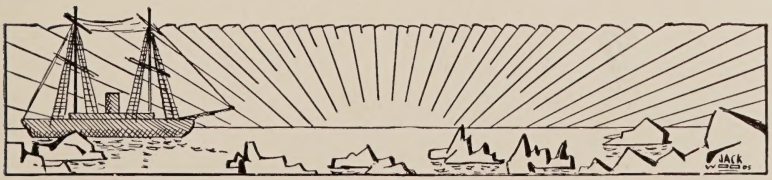


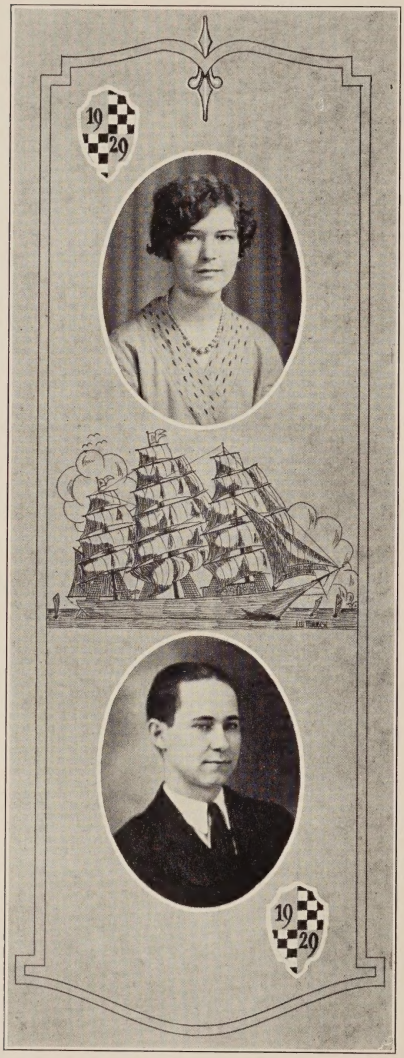
LOUISE BAKER GLASS

"Rare compound of quality, noble and true,
With plenty of sense and good humor too."

Academic Course; Gen. Org.; Social Secretary Senior Class '29; Glee Club '28, '29; Orchestra '29; Holmes Conrad Literary Society '27, '28; French Club 28; Dramatic Club '28, '29; Junior Red Cross.

IS there any senior who does not claim "Lukie" for a friend? She has so much personal charm and such a vivid personality that all are attracted by her. Louise has been beloved by all since the day she first entered Handley. Her manner is a rare combination of piquancy and dignity. Then, too, she is most gifted in the art of music, and is a splendid student.





CHARLENA GRIM

"Those who paint her truest praise her most."

Academic Course; Gen. Org.; Junior Red Cross; Phys. Ed.; Holmes Conrad Literary Society, '27, '28; Dramatic Club '27, '28; Orange and White Volley Ball Team '28, '29; Orange and White Basketball Team '28, '29; French Club '28; S. P. Q. R. '28, '29.

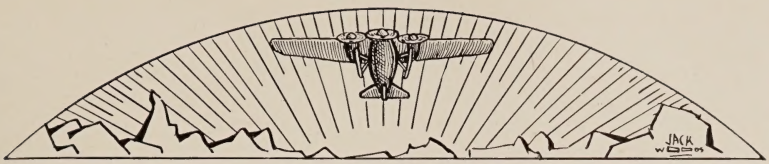
FULL of energy and enthusiasm, Charlena's years at Handley have been replete with accomplishments, both within and without the classroom. Talented in many ways, she has shown special ability in the athletic field. She has been one of the best members of the Orange side. Charlena never has been given much chance to show her executive ability, but we know she has a great deal stowed away in her mind. She expects to go to Harrisonburg State Teacher's College this summer and to teach during the following winter. We wouldn't mind going to school again if—she were our teacher.

ROBERT McCHEYNE GLASS, JR.

"A merry heart maketh a cheerful countenance."

Academic Course; Gen. Org.; Red Cross Representative '29; Military Training '28; Sergt. Military Company '29; Phys. Ed. '27; Dramatic Club '28.

A MERRY smile, affable manner, bright disposition, earnest student, friendly classmate, that's "Bobby". His pleasant spirit cannot but attract others to him, that is cannot but attract others to him; that is why he has so many friends. "Bobby" is planning to attend the University of Virginia next year. We are sure that he will be liked there by all, as he has been here.

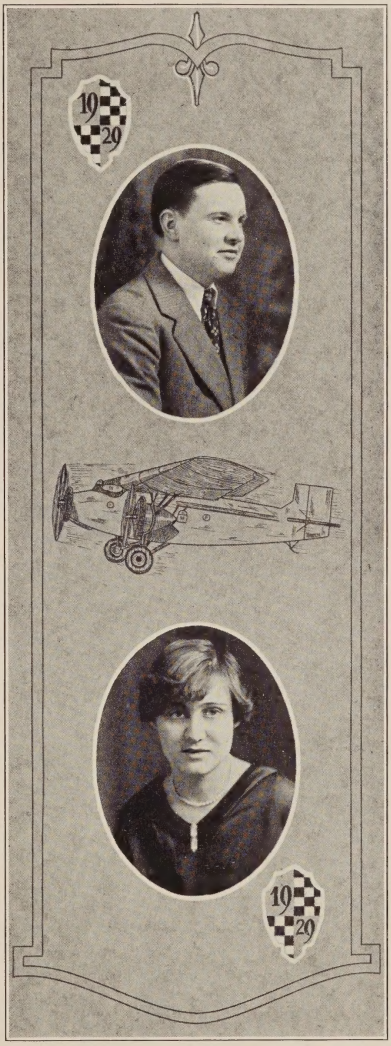


WILLIAM GROVE

"Ever happy, ever glad,
His thoughts are always far from sad."

Academic Course; Gen. Org.; Phys. Ed.; Football '27, '28, '29; Adv. Mgr. Dramatic Club '27, Stage Mgr. '28; Mgr. Basketball Team 29; Junior Red Cross; Asst. Mgr. Baseball '28.

"BILL," as he is known by his many close friends, is a man large both in body and soul. He is one of the best athletes Handley has ever produced. No one, who has ever seen him play football doubts this. Bill has one of the best dispositions and tempers of any of us. He is ready to laugh and can always see a joke. Everyone claims him as a friend and the class of '29 certainly is glad to claim him as its own. We are proud of him.

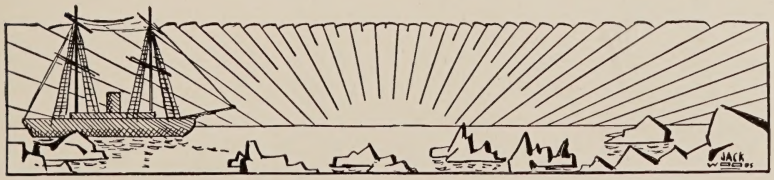


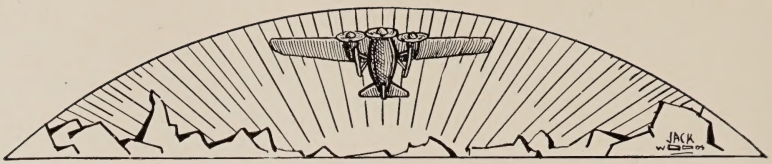
PERMELIA ELIZABETH GRUBBS

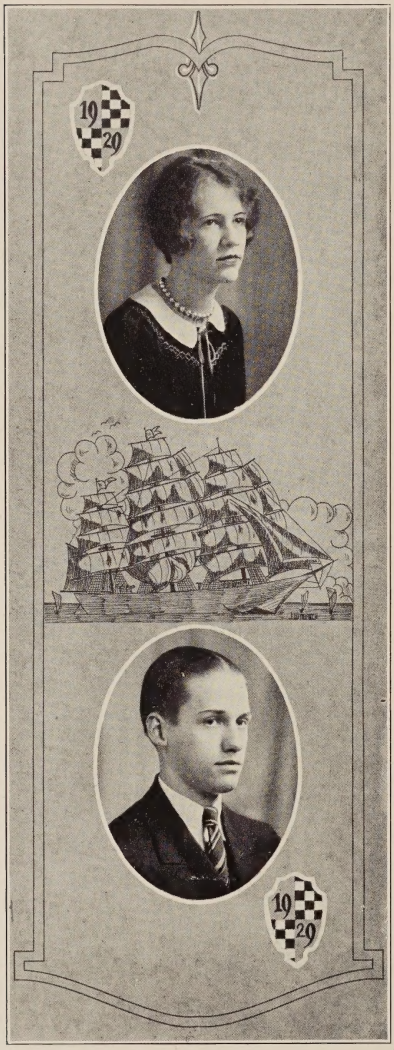
"To any class, of any kind,
She'd be an acquisition;
She's amiable to everyone—
It's just her disposition."

General Course; Gen. Org.; Sec. Glee Club '26, '27, '28, '29; Dramatic Club '28; Junior Red Cross.

ELIZABETH is one of the best natured girls in our class. She is always ready to lend a hand and she certainly will be missed by all her classmates. She attacks all tasks assigned to her cheerfully, and therefore gets the most out of them. Elizabeth may accomplish a great deal in this world, but we feel sure that adding happiness to the lives of others will fill a great part of her life. Certain it is that she has the good wishes of all her classmates.







MARGARET HANSBROUGH

"She is a girl both loving and serene."

General Course; Gen. Org.; Glee Club '26, '27, '28, '29; Dramatic Club '27, '28; Vice-President Class '27, '28; Assistant Business Mgr. Trail Blazer '28; Junior Red Cross.

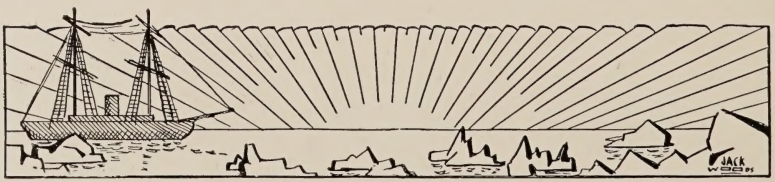
DID you ever notice the goodlooking blonde who comes to Assembly with the senior girls? That's Margaret. Though she is rather sleepy for the first half hour, after this she is one of the most wide awake girls in Handley. Besides being pretty, she is one of the most graceful dancers in the class, and has an excellent alto voice. Her popularity with both boys and girls cannot be surpassed by anyone else in school. Though quiet and serious in classes, Margaret is always ready for fun and gaiety.

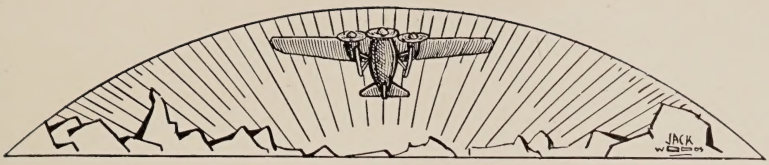
GEORGE ELLIS HARDESTY

"Sweet music charms the ear."

Academic Course; Gen. Org.; Bohemian Society '29; Orchestra '29; Junior Red Cross.

GEORGE came to our High School from Monessen, Pennsylvania. Although this is his first year with us, he has made many friends. He is quiet, studious, and last but not least, musical. He is a decided asset to the orchestra. He expects to go to a conservatory where he can specialize in violin. This is without a doubt what he should do. We know his career will be an enviable one if his present playing is any indication of what he will do in the future, and we are sure it is.



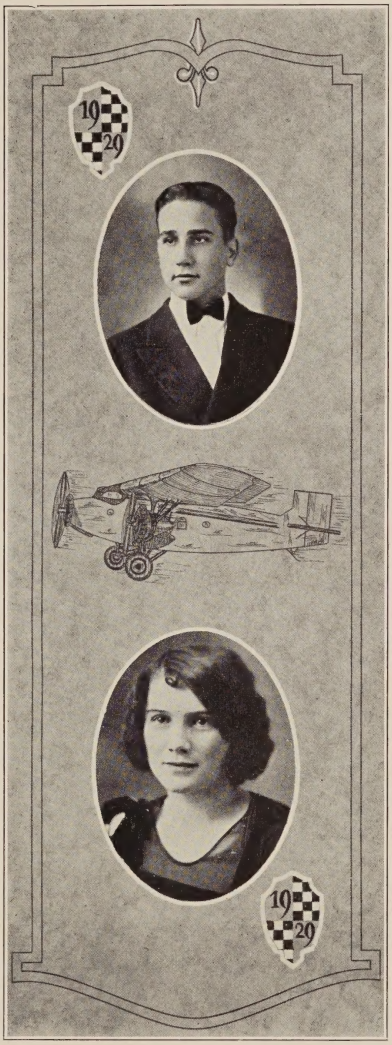


J. OGDEN HEISHMAN

"When done by him, 'tis well done."

General Course; Military Training '28, '29; Gen. Org.; Junior Red Cross; Rifle Club '29.

OGDEN is very quiet and unobtrusive and never forces his ideas upon any of us. He is quite a rest from the usual run of students who are always running around broadcasting their opinions. He is also a very good student. In fact, he is a true Handleyite, and a friend to all of us. He has always done his best—it matters not how small or how large a task is set before him. The memory of a fine character, a sincere friend, and a high type of student will linger with us when we think of him.

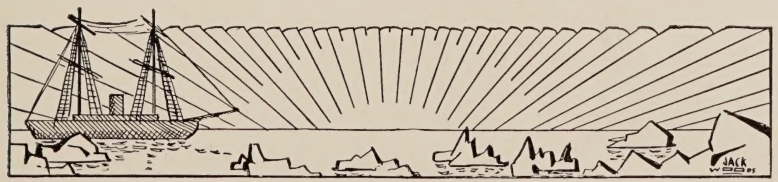


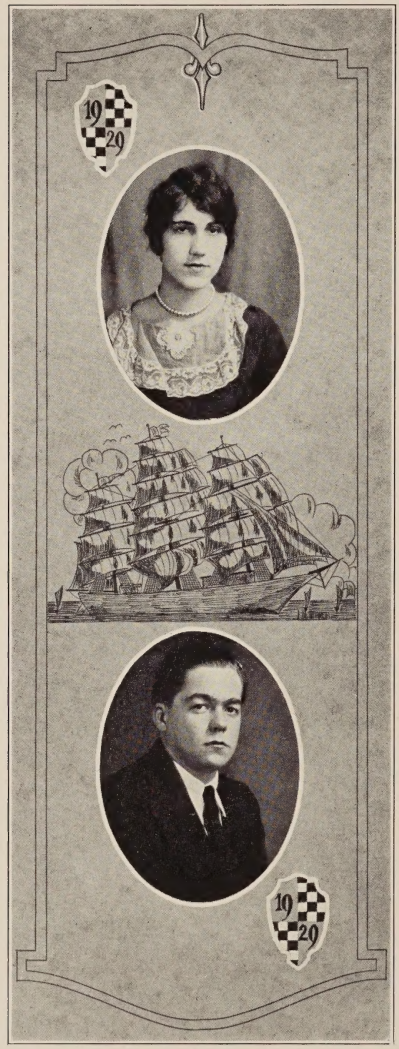
EDNA MAY HARTLEY

"Always laughing, always jolly,
Always full of fun and folly."

Commercial Course; Gen. Org.; Glee Club '29; Junior Red Cross

ADDITIONS of capable students are always welcome at Handley, but when they are as bright and attractive as Edna, we are glad, indeed, to have them. She has a capacity for making everybody like her, and although she has been with us only this year she is already a very popular Senior. Edna is always willing to join in class activities and to help whenever she can. We wish her happiness in the future and hope she will always like Handley as well as Handley likes her.





ETHEL EVANGELINE HARTMAN

"A smile for all, a greeting glad,
A lovable, jolly way she had."

Academic Course; Gen. Org.; Glee Club '28, '29; Bohemian Literary Society '28; S. P. Q. R. '27; Dramatic Club '28; French Club '28; Junior Red Cross; Phys. Ed.

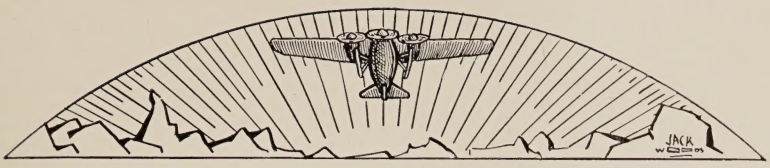
DARK-EYED ETHEL is one of those gifted people who can always find something kind to say about everyone. She has meant much to her class with her friendly ways, and willingness to share all its troubles. Ethel has done splendid work in the music club. She also is a good student for she is not afraid to tackle Vergil, chemistry and solid geometry. She makes good grades, too. We wish her all success in life, whether she pursue her chosen profession or—well, you know the signs.

JOHN FREDERICK HOOVER

"Earnest in purpose."

General Course; Gen. Org.; Military Training Co. A; Rifle Team '27; Band '26, '27, '28, '29; Orchestra '26, '27, '28, '29; Junior Red Cross.

JOHN HOOVER is right in the midst of the best fellows in the class. He has remained loyal in all class activities and few, if any, have surpassed him in school spirit. He seems to us as being a woman hater, but he attributes this to his "long adored love" having spurned him. However, we are not inclined to rely too much on his present attitude. Johnny plays a cornet in the band and orchestra and is very faithful to it. Anyone who can play as well as Johnny, should seek larger fields.



CHARLES KABLE

"Wise to resolve,
Patient to perform."

General Course; Gen. Org. Junior Red Cross; Phys. Ed.; Drum Major Band '28, '29.

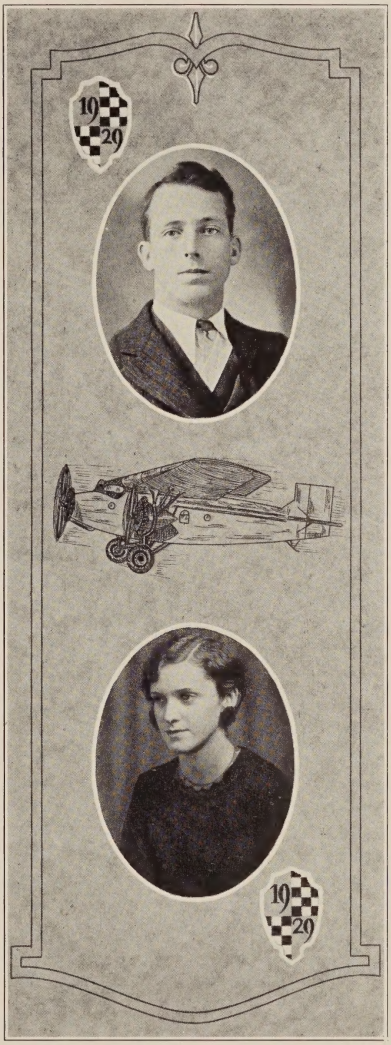
CHARLES is very, very dignified and very seldom has anything to say. He has not been with us very long, but he has come to be one of those who compose the backbone of our class. Owing to the fact that he lives quite a distance from school, he has not taken much part in athletics, but he has entered heartily into the other activities. We think that Charles expects to go to Toronto, Canada, to study, and we know that he will continue to help those around him, just as he has helped us.

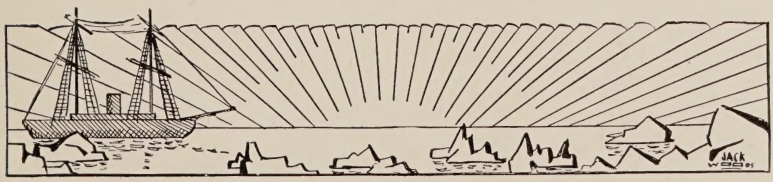
ISABELLE LOUISE HAWLEY

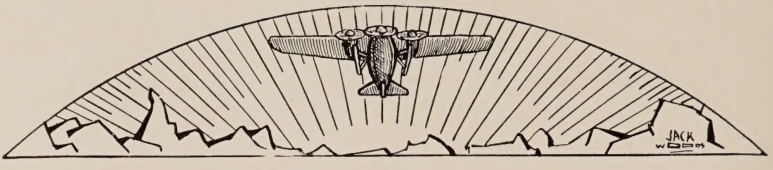
"A sweet attractive girl of grace,
A full assurance given by her looks."

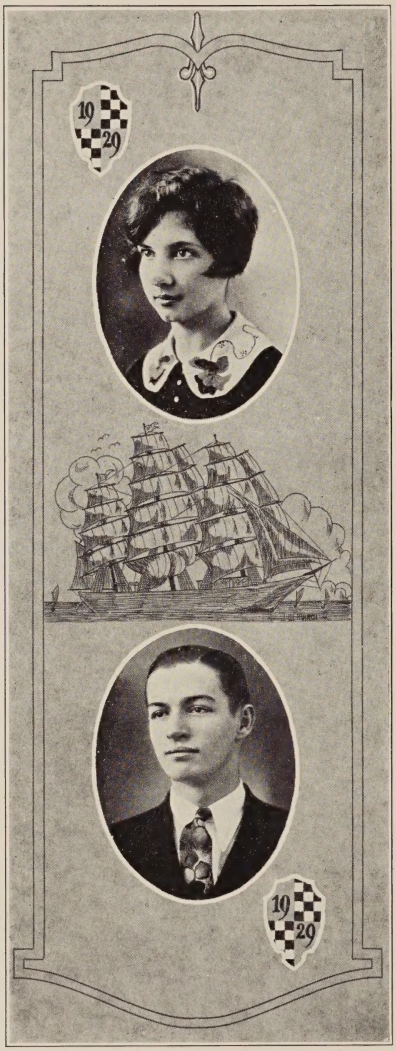
Commercial Course; Gen. Org.; Dramatic Club '28; Captain Orange and White Volley Ball Team '29; Junior Red Cross; Phys. Ed.

LOUISE became a member of our class only last year, and how we do wish she had come sooner. The fact is, we don't see how we got along at all without her—she is so much a part of us now. Naturally enough, Louise is very popular with both boys and girls, for she is one of the most attractive, pretty, and charming girls we know. She is a beautiful dancer, and already she has chosen dancing as her avocation. Next year Louise expects to attend a finishing school.









JENNY LIND LUCAS HOCKMAN

"A friend to those who need a friend,
A pal to make things go."

Academic Course; Gen. Org.; Dramatic Club '27, '28; Cheer Leader '28, '29; Glee Club '26, '27, '28, '29; Orchestra '26, '27, '28, '29; Green and White Volley Ball Team '28, '29; Capt. Green and Whites '29; Junior Red Cross; Phys. Ed.

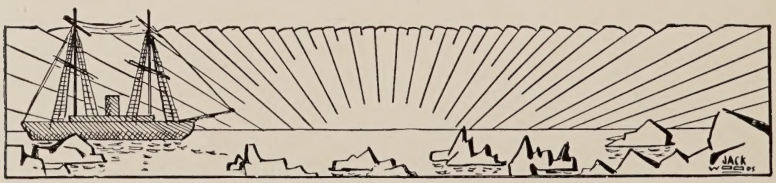
MANY splendid characteristics has Jenny. She can sing, dance, and play the violin, as well as take part in athletics. Not only does she do these things, but she does them exceptionally well. She participates in almost all the school activities—giving generously of her time and talents to make them successful. She is an excellent example of the all 'round Handley girl. One of the musical members of our class is she. If she makes this or anything else, in fact, her career, we are sure she will make us proud of her.

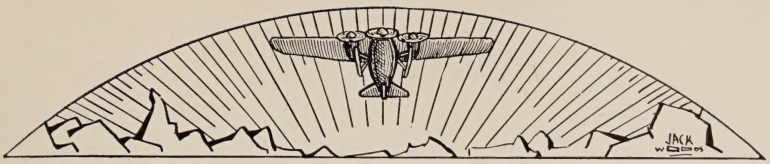
RAYMOND HOWARD KERLIN

"Genius, behold the limit of thy power."

Academic Course; Gen. Org.; Band '26, '27, '28, '29; Military Training '27, '28, 2nd Lieut. '29; Orchestra '27, '28, '29; Co. A Basketball Team '27; Band Team '28; Basketball Team '29; Treas. Class '27, '28; Treas. Dramatic Club '27, '28; Rifle Team '28, '29; Business Mgr. HANDLIAN '29; Junior Red Cross.

RAYMOND is prominent in almost all of the school and class affairs, and well might he be, for never did a class have a more faithful and loyal member. All offices with which he has been invested he has filled with the utmost ability. Raymond has an unusual amount of musical talent. He will study dentistry.



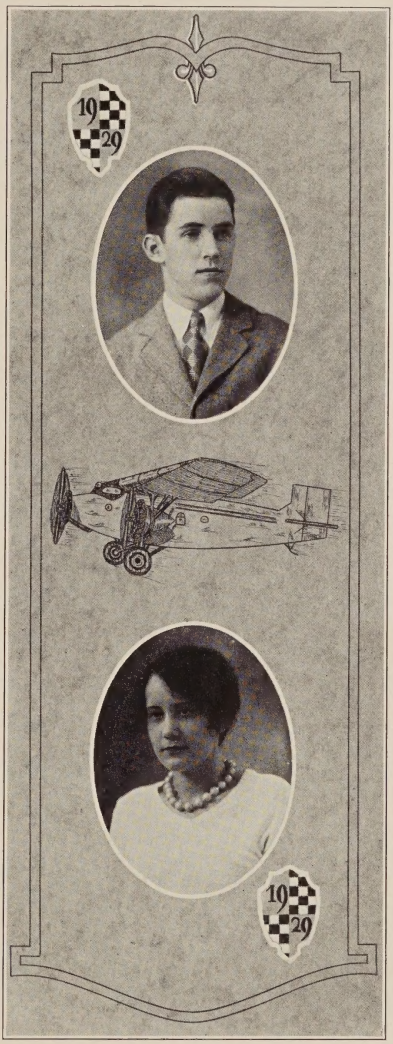


WILLIAM KERN

"All things are possible to diligence and skill."

Academic Course; Gen. Org.; Junior Red Cross; Military Training, Co. B '26, '27; Band '28, '29; Corp. Competitive Drill '28; Best Cadet '26; Basketball '26, '27, '28, '29; Football '27, '28, '29; Track '26, '27, '28, '29; Capt. Track '29; Rifle Team '28, '29; Dramatic Club '27; Sec. Rifle Club '29

BILLY is one of our most "masculine" men. He has entered heartily into all athletics and is a very important member of our football team. Besides his work at Handley he is known around town as "the Boy Scout of Troop No. Three, who has the arm of his uniform covered with badges." With the same spirit and energy by which he won these awards, he has given his help to his class. Billy probably will enter some Academy next year in preparation for West Point.

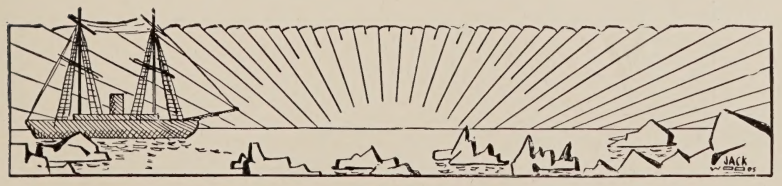


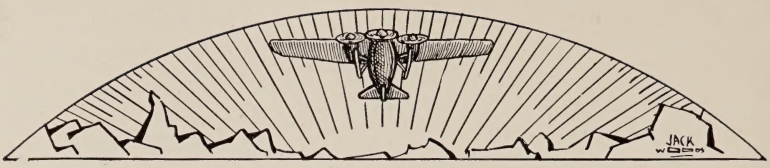
JULIETTE BURWELL JONES

"You'll have to search far before you can find Another girl of this kind."

Commercial Course; Gen. Org.; Junior Red Cross.

JULIETTE is an entirely new member of our class, and we do wish we could have known her longer. She is greatly admired because of her sweet smile and disposition. She is a pretty girl and she possesses, also, a charming manner and personality. Since she lives in Millwood, she has not been able to participate in sports and school events. She is good along business lines. This summer Juliette is planning to go to Strayer's College, but she is uncertain just what she will do next year.





DAISY BELLE LUTTRELL

"Fair, kind, and true have often lived alone,
Which three till now ever kept seat in one."

Academic Course; Gen. Org.; Junior Red Cross.

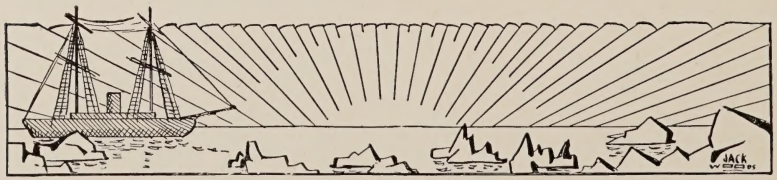
"DICK" is a quiet but thorough student, very businesslike in her manner and although so quiet, she is always ready to participate in any fun. Her pleasant disposition has won her many worthwhile friends. Her gentle words of sympathy and loving acts of kindness will long be remembered by many of our class. She is not certain what she will do next year, but no matter what line of work she takes up, she will surely succeed in it. The best wishes of the class go with her.

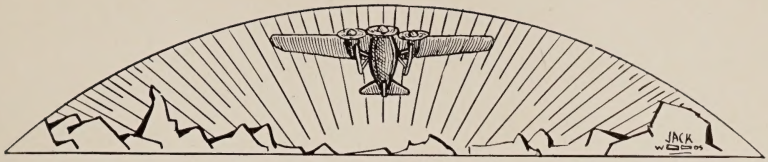
EDWIN LILLIS

"Short of stature, but long in all that goes to make a likable fellow."

General Course; Gen. Org.; Cadet Company Corporal Co. B '27; Baseball '27; Football Manager '27; Track Team '27; Basketball, Co. B. '27; Phys. Ed. '28; Rifle Team '27; Gym Team '29; Junior Red Cross.

EDWIN LILLIS is one of the very popular fellows in the Class of '29. His popularity is attributed to his willingness to do his part in all matters pertaining to class duties and extra-curricular activities. He has been a supporter of baseball and a loyal rooter at all other athletics. He is the strongest member of the class for his size and can perform in the "gym" like a circus acrobat. "Runt" says the "call of the sawdust is adhering to his nostrils,"—and we wouldn't be surprised to hear of his answering it.



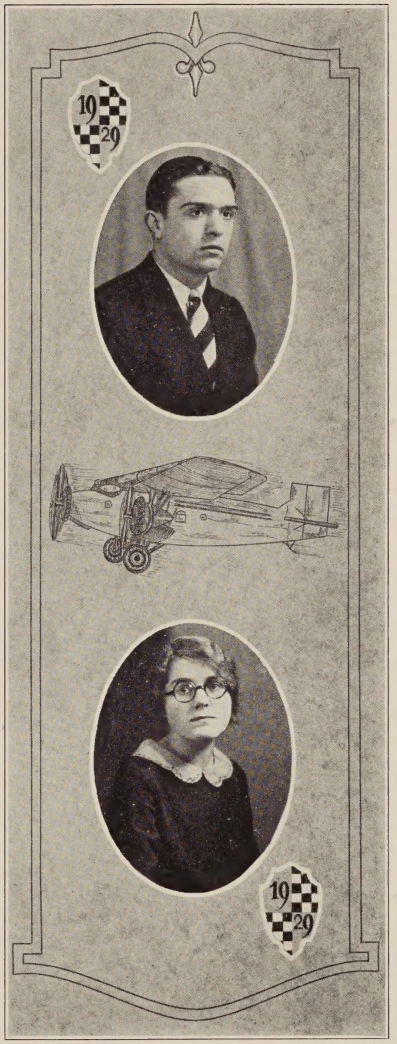


THURMAN CHARLES MASON

"With all manly virtues."

General Course; Gen. Org.; Bohemian Literary Society '28; Military Training Corp. '26, Sergt. '27, '28, '29; Band '27, '28, '29; Dramatic Club '27, '28; Rifle Team '29; Junior Red Cross.

THURMAN is the type of boy who works patiently and industriously, — a most desirable kind of student. We are sure that whatever he earns in this world will be earned by his own hard labor. He has taken to music naturally, and is one of the best players in our school band. Thurman is very popular with the girls, but with his good looks why shouldn't he be? We do not know what he is preparing for, but we know that if any one deserves success he is the boy.

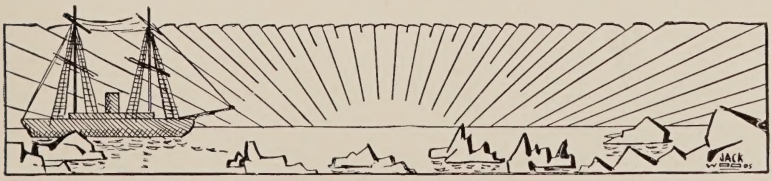


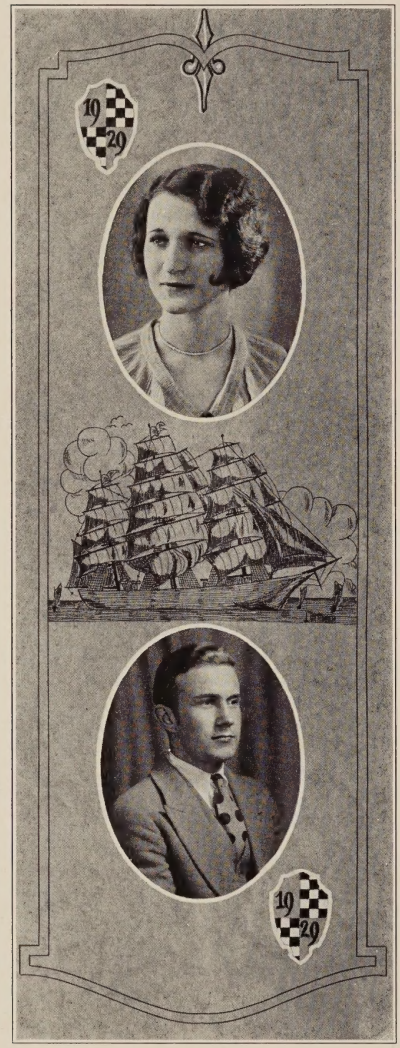
VERNIE ELIZABETH MILBURN

"Greater work awaits your ability."

Academic Course; Gen. Org.; Secretary French Club '28; Dramatic Club '27, '28; Holmes Conrad Literary Society '27, '28, and Secretary '29; Glee Club '28, '29; Junior Red Cross; Phys. Ed. '26, '28.

Although Vernie is one of our smaller girls, her curly head is chucked full of knowledge. She is a most ardent French student. Vernie stars not only in French, but also is an excellent student in her other courses. She is most unselfish with her knowledge, too, for was there ever a time when we were stuck in French, English or History that she failed to help us? Vernie's one great ambition is to teach French. We are sure that she will be successful, if she gives to the world her best efforts as she has given to Handley.





HELEN JEAN MILLER

"A countenance in which did meet
Sweet records, promises as sweet."

Commercial Course; Gen. Org.; Dramatic Club '27, '28; Junior Red Cross.

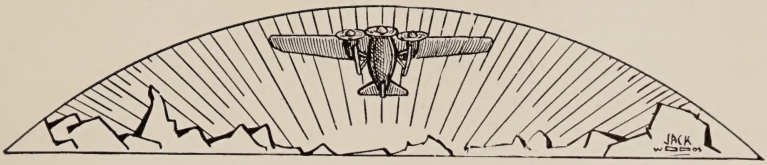
HELEN JEAN is very vivacious. She brings fun with her into all of our gatherings. She is always very busy and intent on what she is doing and she, therefore, accomplishes quickly what she has to do. "Jeannie" is a good friend to all of us and her quick wit and easy manner make her one of the most attractive members of our class. We know she will succeed in this world, for did anyone as happy as "Jeannie" ever do otherwise? We wish her a great deal of success and hope her charms will in no wise diminish.

JAMES MERRINER

"His life is gentle and the elements
So mix'd in him that Nature might stand up
And say to all the world, 'This is a man'!"

General Course; Gen. Org.; Phys. Ed. '29; F. F. V. '29; F. F. V. Basketball Squad '29; Junior Red Cross.

HERE is a new member of the class of '29. Although he has not engaged in many sports, he has responded eagerly to anything asked of him, and has adapted himself to the Handley community very quickly and modestly. Although not socially inclined, he has a willing smile and a ready hand for whatever task or favor asked of him. We know a boy of his character will succeed in later life. The class of '29 wishes for him the best of luck.

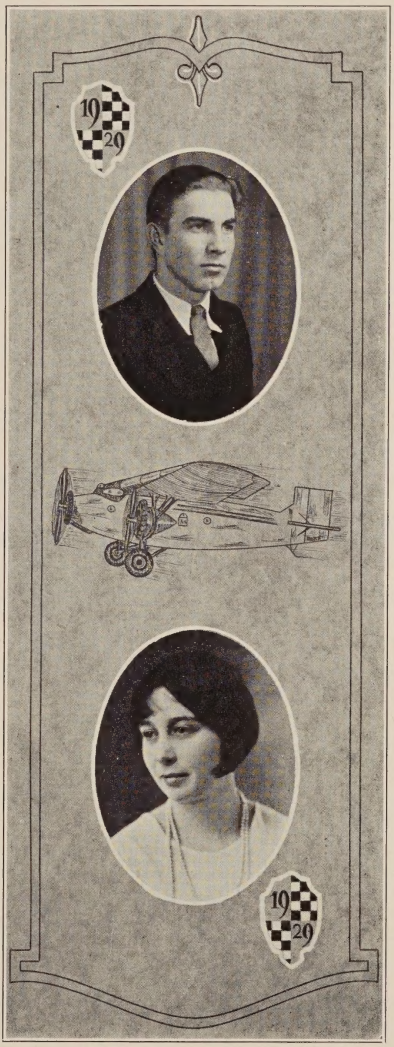


STEPHEN MERRINER

"Perseverence is a gift that few aspire to hold,
Which leads to untold happiness and wins
ambitious goal."

General Course; Gen. Org.; Junior Red Cross; Phys. Ed.

STEPHEN just came to us this year, but he has become a very important part of our class. He is one of our most persevering and industrious students. He is always right on the spot when there is any work to be done for the Class of '29, and we know that whatever he does will be well done. Stephen is very jolly and always keeps the people around him laughing. He has won his way into our hearts and has certainly proved a decided asset to our class. We are sure that he will achieve great things in life.

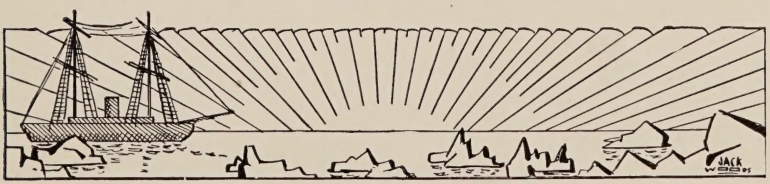


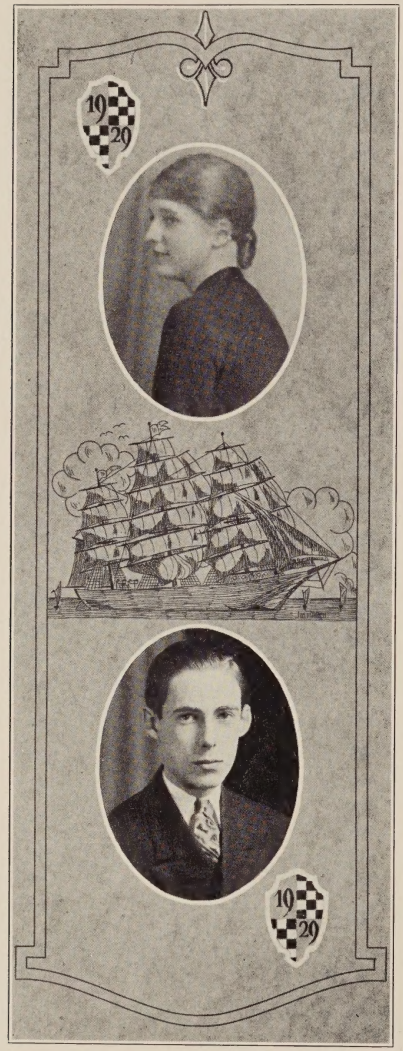
PAULINE VIRGINIA MILLER

"Her voice was ever soft, gentle, and low,
An excellent thing in woman."

Academic Course; Gen. Org.; Junior Red Cross; Phys. Ed.

"POLLY" is a new member of our class, having been with us only during our senior year. To know her is to love her. Her quiet and good natured disposition wins and holds the friendship of many. We were glad to welcome such an earnest student and friendly classmate, who, also, was interested in the school's activities. She is thinking of taking a business course next year. Judging by her work here she'll be splendid in this line. Her diligence and her cheerfulness, we feel sure, will help much toward success in her life's work.





ROSALIE BRUCE NELSON

"Almost to all things she can turn her hand."

Academic Course; Gen. Org.; Executive Council '27, '29; S. P. Q. R. '28; Glee Club '29; Green and White Basketball Team '27, '28, Capt. '29; Green and White Volley Ball Team '28, '29; Track '28; Capt. Green and Whites '28; Sec. HANDLIAN Staff '29; Junior Red Cross; Phys. Ed.; Valedictorian.

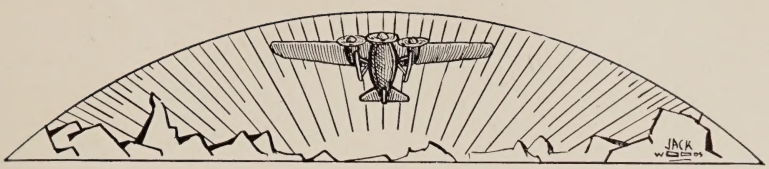
ROSALIE'S characteristic virtue of modesty makes her so quiet and unassuming that one would never guess how much she really does for her class and what a splendid senior she is. She has been with us all through high school and has always maintained a high scholastic standing, as well as an excellent record in athletics. Knowing "Rollie's" capable manner of doing everything she undertakes, we are assured of her success in future life.

JAMES MARCH

"He's quiet, and friendly and sensible,
In every way indispensable."

Academic Course; Gen. Org.; Junior Red Cross; Salutatorian '29; Art Editor HANDLIAN; Sgt. Military Training Co. '29; Pres. Dramatic Club '27; Censor S. P. Q. R. '28; Associate Editor Trail Blazer '27; Business Mgr. Trail Blazer '28; Executive Council '28; Art Editor HANDLIAN '29.

BY simply looking at James you can find out lots of things that he doesn't realize he is broadcasting. We have found that he is very, very neat and thorough in everything he undertakes. And original? Well, all you need to do is look at a panel of this book. James did it. Moreover, he has one of the highest scholastic ratings in our class.



JOHN MILLER

"If music be the food of love, play on."

General Course; Gen. Org.; Junior Red Cross; Band '27, '28, '29; Orchestra '27, '28, '29; Military Training; Corporal Band '28; Sec-Treas. F. F. V. '29; Mgr. Dramatic Club '28; Assistant Business Mgr. Trail Blazer '28.

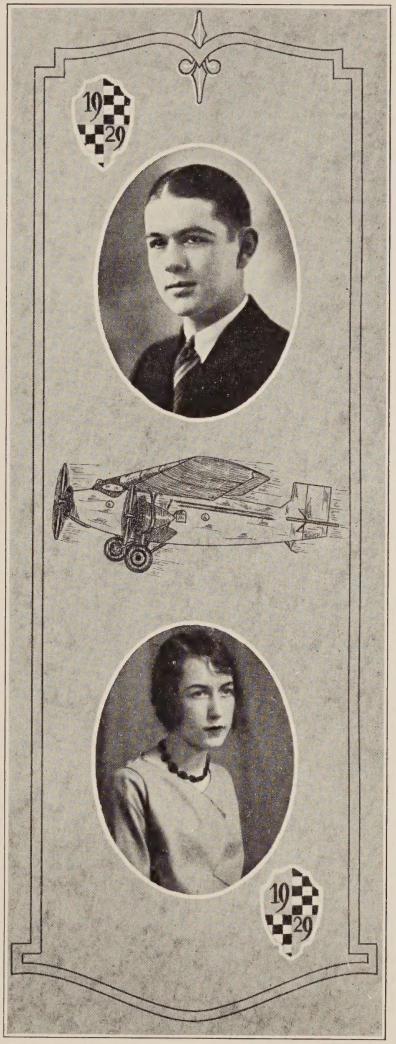
JOHN MILLER, commonly known as "Pete", is a regular fellow. We are happy to say that his twelve-year sentence will soon be completed and henceforth he will be a free man. He has never made an attempt to break away from this institution, except when he had the measles. He is a good English student and knows his books, having started to write one on "The Injustice and Evils of Feeding Sauer Kraut to the Irish Navy." "Pete" is also a talented musician, and a member of the band and orchestra.

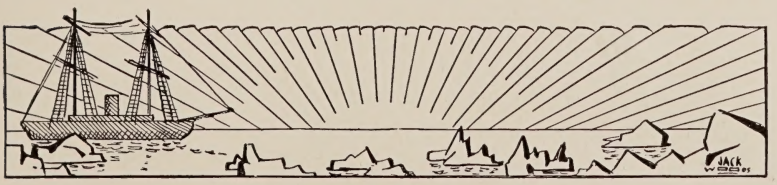
SHIRLEY CLAIBORNE OAKES

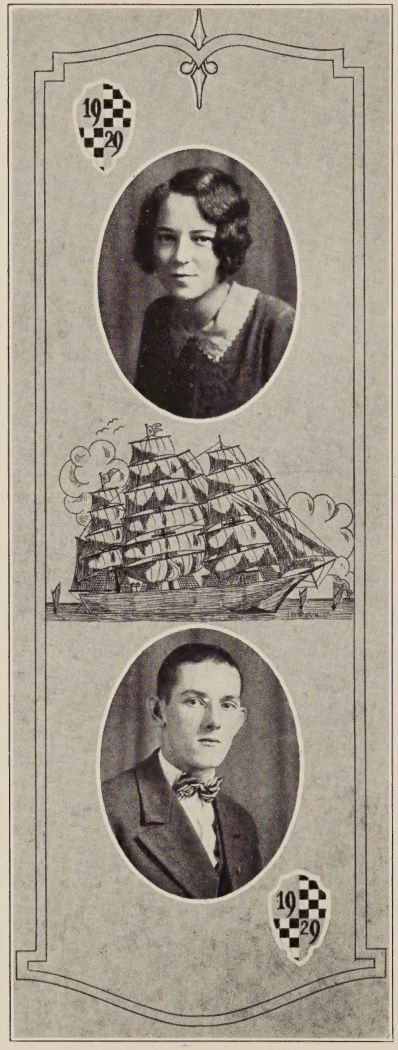
"The mildest manner and the gentlest heart."

Academic Course; Gen. Org.; Junior Red Cross; Holmes Conrad Literary Society '26, '27, '28, '29; S. P. Q. R. '28; Glee Club '28, '29; Red Cross Repr. '29; Dramatic Club '27, '28, '29.

SHIRLEY is the member of our class whom we both envy and love. We envy her because of her innate dignity and grace. We love her for many reasons not least of which is her good temper at all times. She is one of our most capable and reliable classmates. Her unselfishness and constant loyalty have shown that she is the kind of student Handley will be sorry to lose. Shirley probably will go to Harrisonburg State Teachers College next year. Handley's loss will be Harrisonburg's gain.







FRANCES VICTORIA PREFFITT

"Modest, gentle, level-headed, wise."

Academic Course; Gen. Org.; Dramatic Club '27, '28; Sec. Orange and Whites '29; Orange and White Basketball Team '27, '28, '29; Orange and White Volley Ball Team '28, '29; Capt. '28; French Club '28; Ass't. Art Editor HANDLIAN; Junior Red Cross; Phys. Ed.

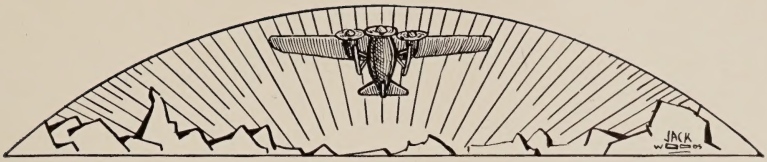
THOUGH quiet and unassuming, Frances is one of our most prominent Seniors. She is very trustworthy and capable. No matter what task is given her to do, or how hard it may be, she always carries it through perfectly. In athletics she excels. She enters enthusiastically into all sports and she is always one of the leading members of the teams. As well as being greatly admired for her activity in athletics, Frances is well liked because of her sweetness and good nature. She is planning to be a stenographer, and we are sure she'll be a splendid one.

ELLSWORTH ORNDOFF

"And certainly, he was a good fellow."

General Course; Gen. Org.; Phys. Ed.; Baseball '28; Basketball, Phys. Ed. Team '26; Junior Red Cross; F. F. V.

ELLSWORTH ORNDORF is a calm and collected member of our class. He is one of those fellows whom one is glad to be able to call a friend, for he always has a smile and a warm greeting ready for you. He was a member of our baseball team and has a loyal attitude toward school affairs. However, due to his living in the country he has not been able to participate extensively in athletics. Ellsworth is a good student, and we feel confident that he will succeed in whatever he attempts in later life.

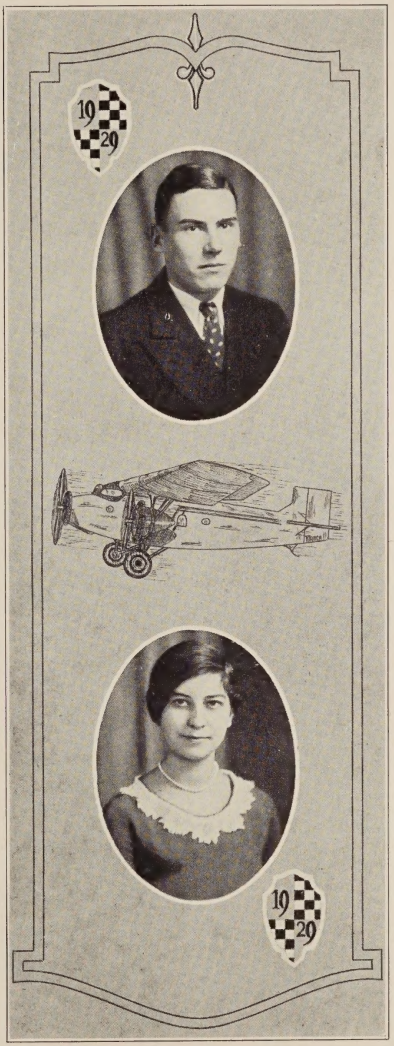


FORREST SECRIST

"You think he's shy,
He's not a bit, nor is he hard to know.
He's the friend to stick through the rainy day
And the one to make things go."

General Organization; Junior Red Cross; Phys. Ed.

FORREST SECRIST is one of the finest boys in the class. This is his first year with us, but, nevertheless, he has made himself generally known, and now appears to be everybody's friend. He is a person of massive build and resembles another "Goliath". He has not been able to take part in athletics because of the distance he has to cover between school and home. However, his willingness to aid in class affairs has made him popular.

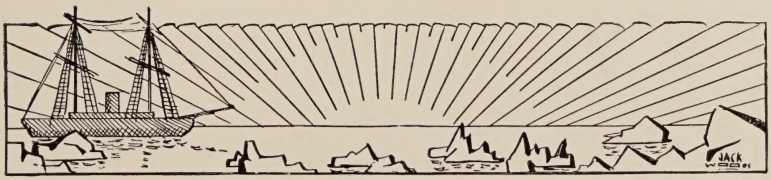


MARGARET FRANCES RICHARDS

"That which she wills to do or say
Seems wisest, most virtuous, and best."

Academic Course; Vice-Pres. Gen. Org. '28; Junior Red Cross; Glee Club '26, '27, '28, '29; French Club '28; S. P. Q. R. '28; Vice-Pres. Dramatic Club '28; Pres. Dramatic Club '29; Vice-Pres. Senior Class '29; Editor Trail Blazer '28; Associate Editor HANDLIAN '29; Phys. Ed.; Capt. Orange and White Basketball Team '29; Pres. Holmes Conrad Literary Society '28; Orange and White Volley Ball Team '28, '29; Debating Team '28.

"BUNNY" is one of the most valuable members of our class and of Handley. How much confidence we have in her is shown by the fact that she has been elected to so many important offices. She can sing, "giggle", preside over any meeting with dignity, and talk; in truth, she can do anything. Versatile? Well, that's her middle name.



VIRGINIA IRVING RICHARDS

"Dignity and love so unusually blended."

Academic Course; Junior Red Cross; Gen. Org.; Bohemian Literary Society '28, '29; Dramatic Club '27, '28, '29.

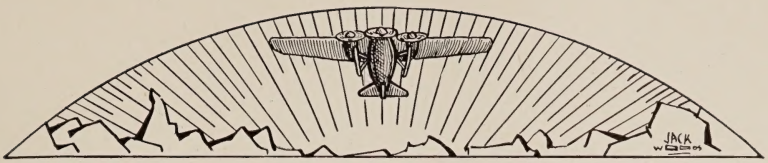
ALTHOUGH Virginia has a roving spirit, she has stayed with us for four years. She is one of the most sedate and industrious members of our class. With her dignity is mixed a good share of humor which she displays at just the correct times. She has been one of the best all-around students at Handley. She expects to go to William and Mary College next year, and judging from the work she has done here, we know that she will be a credit to Handley and the Class of '29

LAWRENCE WILTON SHANK

"Wit-work is always play when it is good."

General Course; Gen. Org.; Twentieth Century Literary Society '28, '29; Dramatic Club '27, '28, '29; Phys. Ed.; Cheer Leader '29; Junior Red Cross; Joke Editor HANDLIAN; Class Prophet.

"JUICY" entered our class in the Junior year, but he has become one of our most valued members. He is known around school by his ready, smiling face, and original "wise cracks" He has not gone in for any athletics in any previous year, but he is going out for track this year. He helped the foot-ball team a great deal this year by leading the pupils in their cheering. Lawrence is a good student and exceedingly faithful in the performance of any task given to him--especially in the dramatic field.



TAYLOR SIMPSON

"'Tis well to be merry and wise,
'Tis well to be honest and true."

General Course; Gen. Org.; Phys. Ed.; Junior Red Cross; Dramatic Club '27, '28.

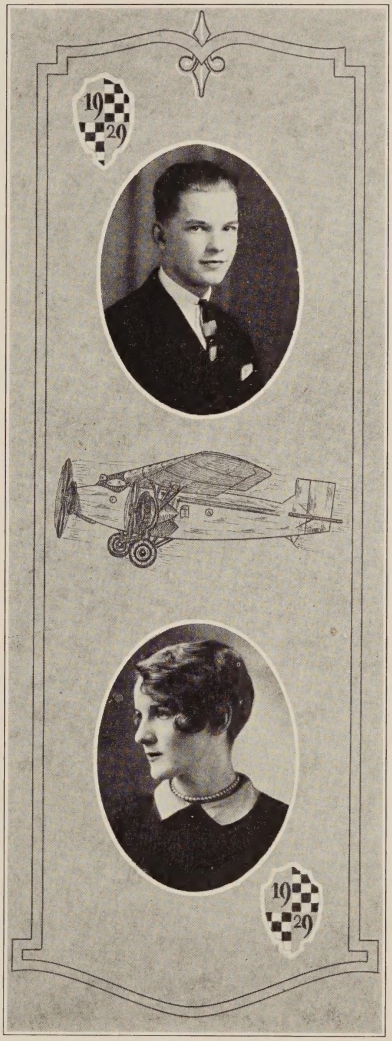
TAYLOR SIMPSON is an example of the maxim that "big things come in small packages." What he lacks in size he makes up in geniality, pleasantness and ambition. He has a fine disposition and it wouldn't change if there were another "Nebraska earthquake". "Tate" has not taken an active part in athletics, because a "medicine man" removed his appendix. Not even a book is complete without an appendix, so he was forced to wait untill this year, when he has become a member of the basketball squad. We do not know what he will do next year, but we know he will succeed.

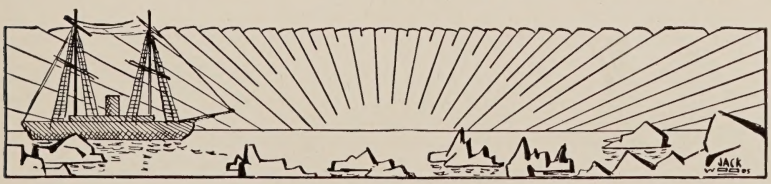
JUANITA MARIE RILEY

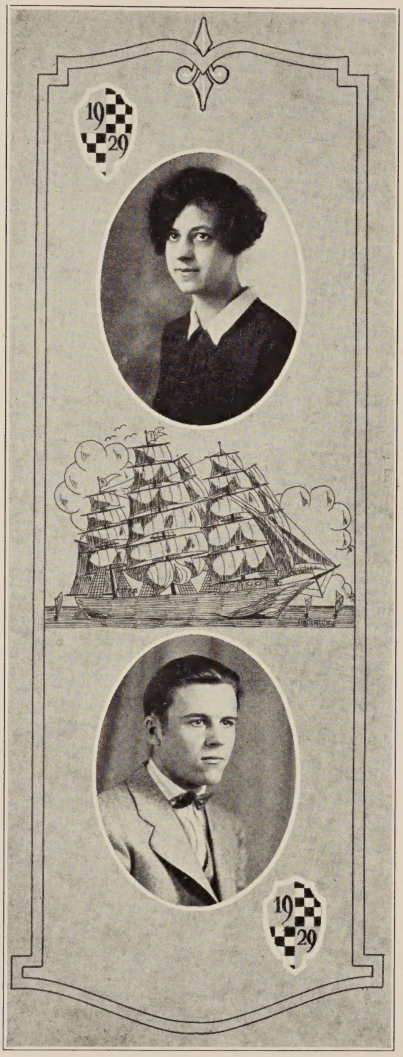
"A girl whom all will love because they must."

Academic Course; Gen. Org.; Glee Club '26, '27, '28, '29; Dramatic Club '27, '28; Secretary Orange and Whites '28; Captain Orange and Whites '29; Orange and White Basketball Team '27, '28; Orange and White Volley Ball Team '28, '29; Junior Red Cross; Phys. Ed.

WHAT couldn't we say about Juanita? Her attractions and good qualities are without limit. She is very popular; in fact, everyone loves and admires "Nita." When a girl is clever, industrious, pretty, a good student, dancer, and musician what else could one expect. As for athletics we don't know what the Orange and Whites would do without her. Volley ball, basketball,—anything, she plays splendidly in all.







LUCY FRANCES RITENOUR

"To those who know her not, no words can paint,
And those who know her know all words are faint."

Academic Course; Gen. Org.; Junior Red Cross; Glee Club '28, '29; Dramatic Club '27, '28.

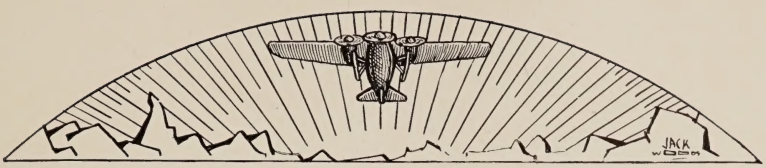
ALWAYS with more ability than she thought she possessed, Lucy has given to her work the last particle of effort of which she was capable—and her capability has no end. She has taken her work seriously and has done it thoroughly. She has been a friend to everyone and there is not a person in the Class of '29 who does not claim her as such. Although she is serious, she is very often quite jolly and entertaining. Lucy expects to enter the Harrisonburg State Teachers, College next year.

ROBERT PAUL STEWART

"Strong of his brain,
But still of his tongue."

Academic Course; Gen. Org.; Military Training '29; Junior Red Cross.

ALTHOUGH Paul is a new boy here, he has entered readily into the spirit of the school. Because of the great distance that he lives from school, he has been unable ot take part in any athletics, but he has given his loyal support to the General Organization. Paul is very studious boy and has made good grades this year. He realizes silence is his best argument and makes the most of it. We all admire steady, consistent, efficient men and Stewart is all of these.



MARION SUTTON

"He is true to his word, his work, and his friends."

Academic Course; Gen. Org.; Junior Red Cross; Phys. Ed.; Band '26, '27, '28, '29; Orchestra '29; French Club '28; Basketball '29; Track '28, '29.

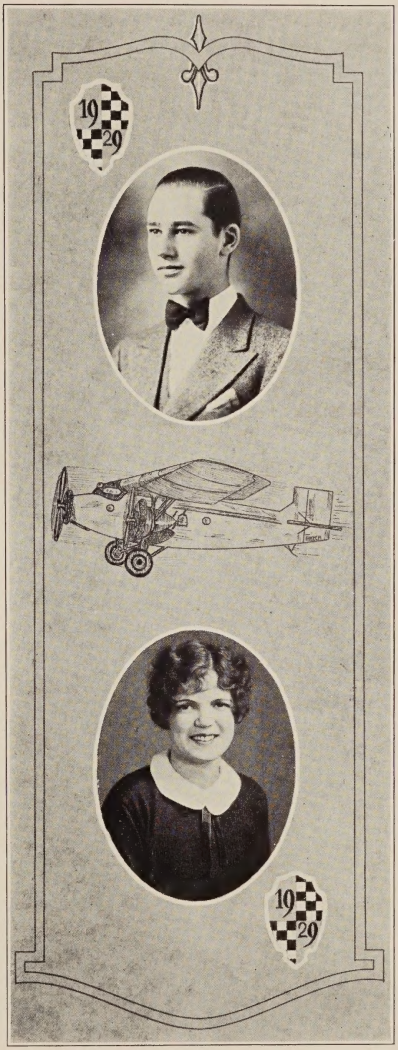
FRIENDS, Romans, and countrymen, lend me your eyes. You see before you the splendid portrait of Marion Sutton, a very promising member of the graduating class of '29. For all those who do not know him, he is the fellow who walks to school with the erect and dignified bearing of a Lord Chesterfield. We who know Marion think of him as the man with the good character and disposition. Sutton has taken part in many of the athletics, specializing in track. We do not know what his future ambition is, but we hope his track work will send him through life with flying colors.

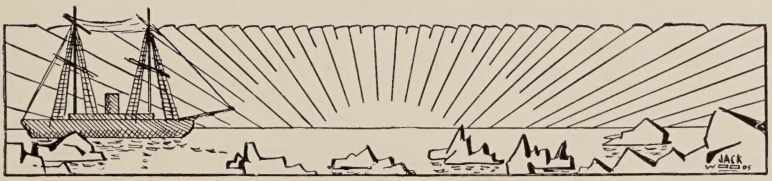
MARTHA LEE RITTER

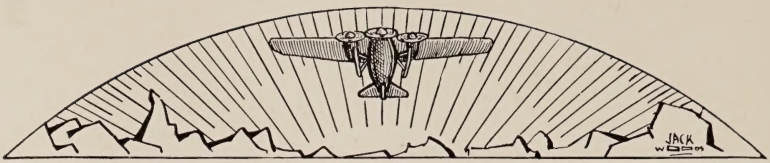
"Not too sober; not too gay,
But a good, true girl in every way."

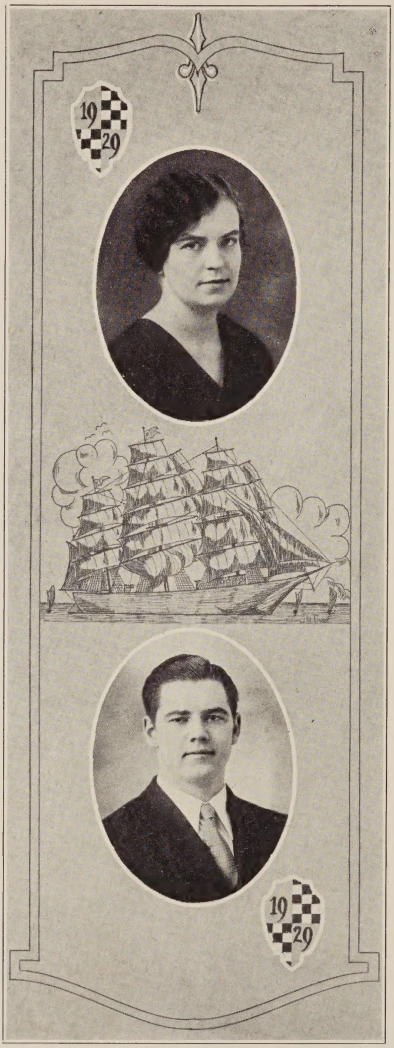
General Course; Gen. Org.; Glee Club '26, '27, '28, '29; Executive Council '27; Dramatic Club '27, '28; Production Manager Dramatic Club '27; Junior Red Cross.

GRACE is to be admired always, and when combined with a sunny and cheerful disposition, the result is all that could be desired. These delightful characteristics are all combined in our most charming and agreeable Martha, Martha who greets one and all with the brightest of smiles. She is of an artistic temperament. She not only sings and dances to perfection, but, also, takes great interest in dramatic enterprises. Martha is going to study costume designing.









EVELYN VIRGINIA RUDOLPH

"In matters tranquillity is the supreme power."

Academic Course; Gen. Org.; Dramatic Club '27, '28; Junior Red Cross.

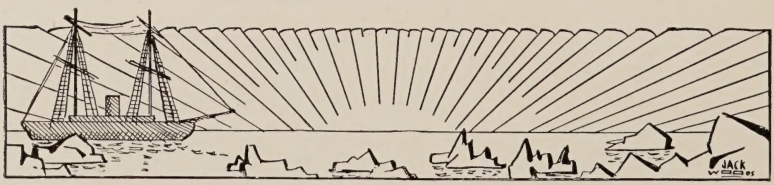
EVELYN is one of those girls who has kept right along with us since the first grade. Although she is very quiet, when you know her, you will find that she is one of the most friendly and unselfish girls that we have in our class. We are sorry that Evelyn has not entered more widely into school activities and given us a chance to know her better. Evelyn excels, expecially, in Bookkeeping. Her books are the personification of neatness. As Evelyn expects to make the commercial field her choice, we know that success awaits her.

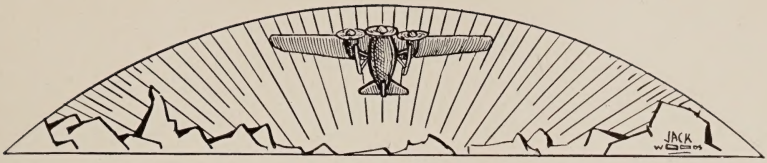
JOHN MYERS TAYLOR

"Laugh and the world laughs with you."

General Course; Gen. Org.; Basketball, Co. B. Team '27, Band Team '28; Baseball '27, '28; Dramatic Club '27, '28; Football '28, '29; Band '27, 28, '29; Military Training '27, '28, 29; Junior Red Cross, Track 27, '28.

A HEARTY laugh, a loud voice, a friendly heart in a big body, that is our old friend "Beefy." He is always ready to take part in any activity and to share everything he owns with his friends. He has found a place in every one's heart because of the enthusiam he exhibits in anything he undertakes. As a football player, "Beefy" has played well for Old Handley and has been awarded two letters in this sport. We know he will succeed in later life if he carries this same old spirit with him through future years.



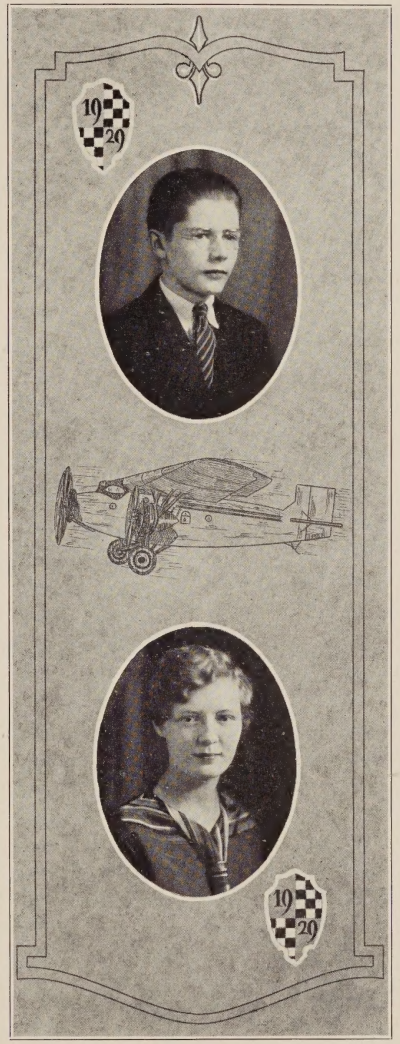


JOHN HERVEY WOODS

"With a certain quiet wisdom."

Academic Course; Gen. Org.; Phys. Ed. '26, '27, '28, '29; Dramatic Club '27, '28; Asst. Art Editor HANDLIAN.

HERE we certainly have proof that "good things come in small packages." John is one of the most talented boys in the Senior Class. His clever sketching is a true delight. Because of this ability he was selected assistant art editor of the HANDLIAN. He is one of the best students in the class, and, though shy, he wins for himself a place in every one's heart. Next year John will probably attend an art school. Such unusual talent in art as he has ought to be further developed. Best wishes for you, John.

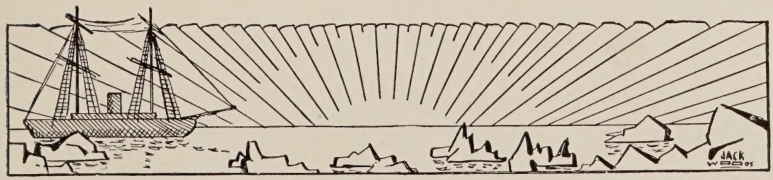


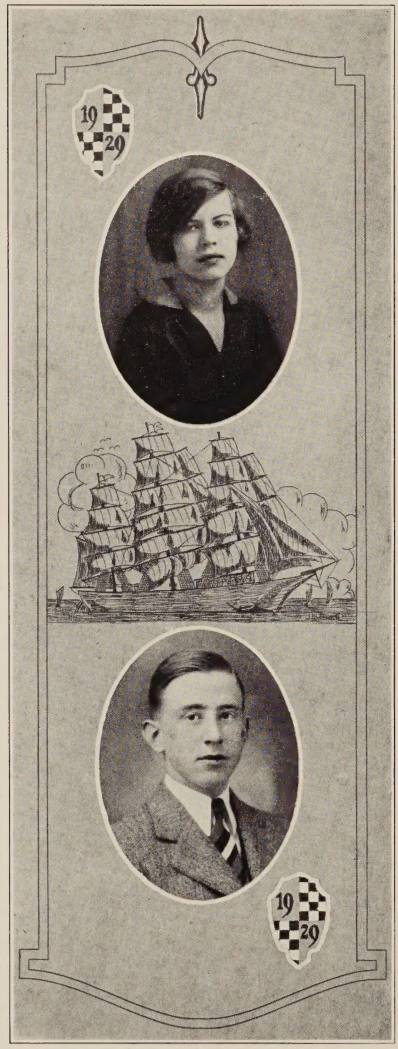
MARY LOUISE SARTELLE

"To smile and look cheerful, contented, and gay,
Is an excellent method of starting the day."

Academic Course; Sec. Glee Club '28; Orchestra '29; Dramatic Club '27, '28; Vice-Pres. Red Cross '29; S. P. Q. R. '27; Holmes Conrad Literary Society '27; Phys. Ed.

IF you should wander down the hall during the third period, you would hear strains of beautiful music issuing from Miss Hancon's room. There is only one who it could possibly be, and that is our own Mary Louise. Besides being an excellent violinist, Mary Louise wins a host of friends everywhere she goes by her cheerfulness and charming personality. Here's hoping "Mary Lou" may ever be as joyful and pleasant as she has been at Handley. Some day we hope to see her on the concert stage.





E. MARGUERITE SMITHEY

"Success is sure to be
To one so faithful as she."

Academic Course; Gen. Org.; Glee Club '26, '27, '28, '29; Holmes Conrad Literary Society '27, '28, '29; Sec. 28; Poetry Editor Trail Blazer 28; Dramatic Club '27, '28, '29; French Club '28; Sec. Junior Red Cross '29; S. P. Q. R. '28; Green and White Volley Ball Team '28, '29; Green and White Basketball Team '29; Debating Team '27; Writer of Words to Class Song; Phys. Ed.; Class Poet.

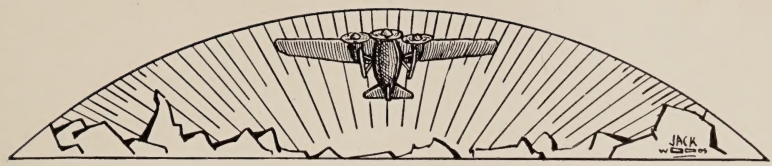
WHETHER Marguerite has led or followed, she has done it always with the utmost success. She participates in nearly all of the school activities. Her splendid scholastic ability is proven by the facts that she has always gotten excellent grades, and is continually winning in debating contests. At Handley, Marguerite has made and has maintained a record of which anyone might well be proud.

M. STEELE WRIGHT

"Fair headed, brave, and with a bright bit
Of light-heartedness all over his countenance."

Academic Course; Gen. Org.; Football '28; Phys. Ed. '29.

FOREST PARK'S loss is Handley's gain. We can truthfully say this about Steele. He came from Baltimore and has been with us only a year, yet he was a member of our football squad, and he has acquired the Handley Spirit of sportsmanship and fair play. He takes chemistry and solid geometry, so we know he is a good student. We are sure he will succeed in whatever vocation he chooses. By this charming personality he has won a host of friends here who wish him the best of luck.

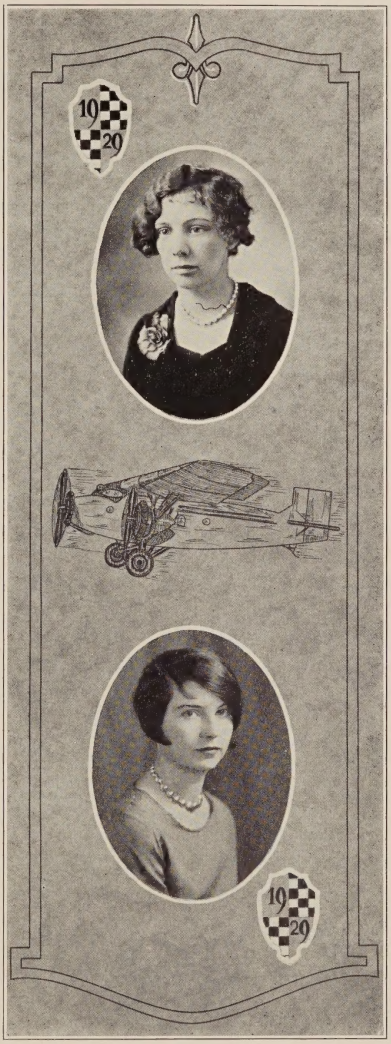


ANNIE KATHLEEN SPATES

"I'll be merry and free;
I'll be sad for nobody."

General Course; Gen. Org.; Junior Red Cross; Dramatic Club '28.

KATHLEEN is always ready for fun and a good time. She doesn't believe in long faces, but, when the time comes to be serious, Kathleen can be serious. She has been with our class all through its years of struggle and her happy laugh and cheering smile have endeared her to us all. Added to her sunny disposition she has the excellent quality of perseverence. Kathleen expects to become a stenographer, and we surely do envy those who will come in contact with her. She's "heaps" of fun and an excellent worker.

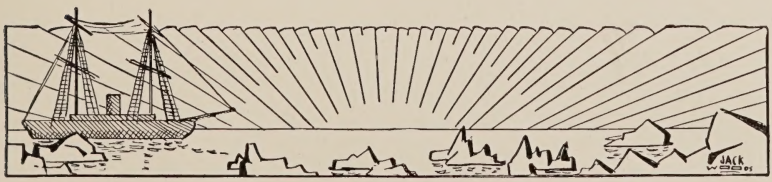


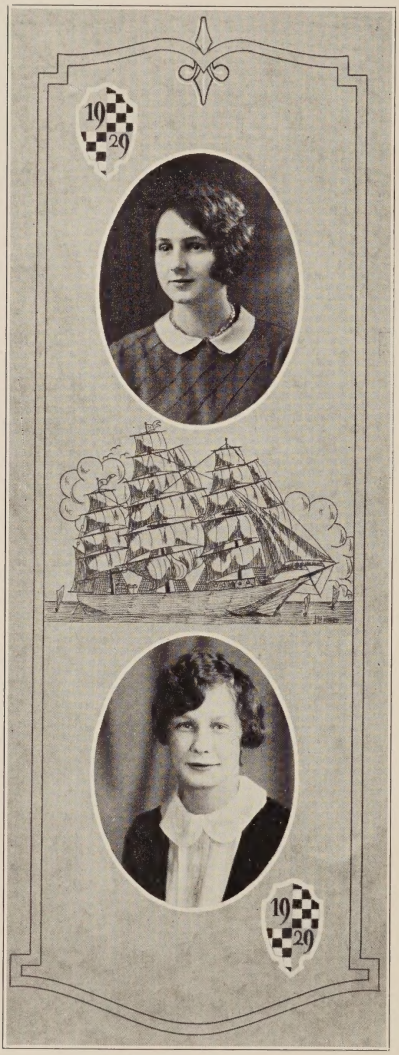
ELIZABETH GERTRUDE SULLIVAN

"Ever true, kind, and sweet,
Industrious, too, and hard to beat.

Academic Course; Gen. Org.; Pres. Junior Red Cross '29; Dramatic Club '28; Glee Club '28, '29.

ELIZABETH is very attractive and quite petite. She has won a place in the hearts of all who know her. She has made an excellent record at Handley, both scholastically and otherwise. Elizabeth is especially interested in Red Cross work and has done a great deal of work for our own Junior Red Cross. She probably will go into training at Georgetown University. Some day we may see her at Handley as school nurse. Those who will come in contact with her in the future surely have a great treat in store for them.





EVA JANE THORNTON

"Heart on her lips, and soul within her eyes;
Soft as her clime and sunny as her skies."

General Course; Gen. Org.; Junior Red Cross; Dramatic Club '27, '28.

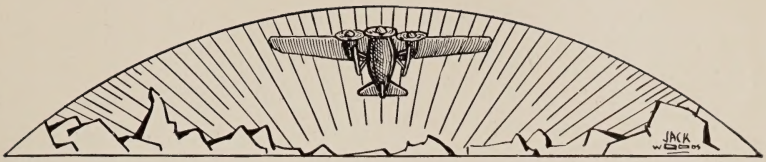
EVA has been a faithful member of the class of '29 for a long time. She is beautiful, dignified, quiet, and intelligent. What more could one wish? She is the embodiment of all the good characteristics of a true Handley student. Blessed with the ability to do much in a short time she has made good use of every minute of the day. She has never refused to do anything that she thought would help her class. Straight-forward and true, she is a friend worth cultivating and we all wish her every possible success.

ELIZA ROBINSON TUCKER

"Pep, good humor, animation
Blended in with a ready smile."

Business Course; Gen. Org.; Dramatic Club '27, '28; Junior Red Cross.

LIZA is a genius at writing short stories, and her head of pretty curls is the source of much energy. She is well known for her wit and her excellent dancing. Her attractive and engaging personality draws to her many friends of both sexes. Liza is an addict to hot lunches and falling in love. The expression, "Gee-he is the sweetest man," frequently falls in honeyed tones from her lips. Liza is taking a business course for she expects to become a private secretary. We are wondering just how long she will remain one.



MARGUERITE WINGFIELD

"A daughter of the gods, divinely tall,
And most divinely fair."

Academic Course; Gen. Org.; Glee Club '29; Junior Red Cross.

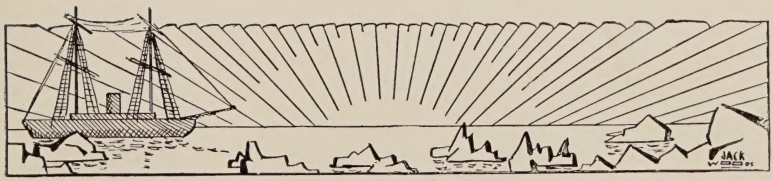
MARGUERITE is one of the newer members of our class. Although we have not known her long, she has been a welcome addition to our group. When we first saw her, we were attracted by her pretty face surrounded by dark glossy hair waving in a most enviable manner. She has a good soprano voice and immediately upon her arrival in our midst she was seized upon for the Glee Club, and that organization has found her to be a most helpful member. From Handley, Marguerite will go to Shepherds College where she will study to be a teacher.

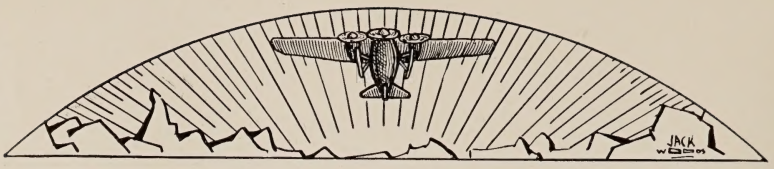
Ode To Any Senior

By an UNKNOWN WARRIOR

Oh gentle youth and fair,
Thou form of nobleness,
How from thy being do exude
Breathings of excellence, virtue and wisdom passionless!
As thru detaining clod, past humbler growth,
Narcissus strives toward wheeled Hyperion,
And, in his gaze, reveals a form
Condemning Cytherea's charm,
The while his fragrance doth attest
The vigor of his chaste endeavor,
So thou, eluding Pluto's messengers,
By every mortal strength and might of Zeus,
Hast wreathed thy brow with fair divinity!

Swift, cunning Hermes, Keeper of the Kine,
Regard my oath:
This Nobleness I love,
This youth divine





Class Song

TUNE—The End of a Perfect Day

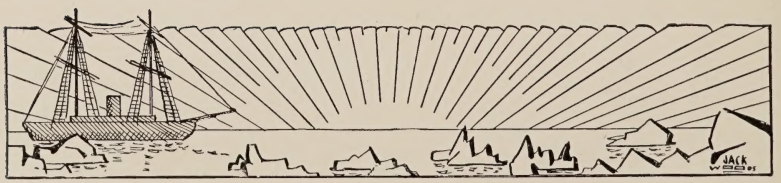
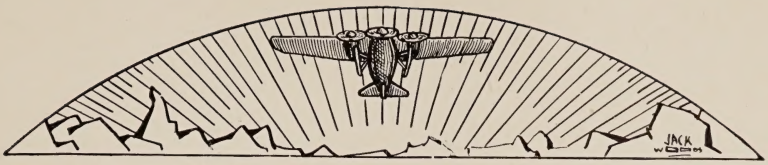
As we come to the end of our glad school days,
To the time we must leave Handley High,
And we know that at last has come the day
When we must say goodbye,
To thee, Old Handley, we sing the praise
Of the Class of '29.
For years we have dwelt within thy walls,
Which we love with a love divine.

Oh, Handley, we give to thee our love,
Which comes from saddened hearts,
For we know that the day has now arrived,
And we must from thee part.
So with eyes full of tears and aching hearts,
"29 bids thee goodbye,
And the walls re-echo the touching words,
Farewell to thee, Handley High.

MARGUERITE SMITHEY.





Prophecy

I, SEEKING ADVENTURE in this year of 1949, joined the Swiss Home Guards, which was then enlisting recruits to quell a disturbance that had arisen among the Scandinavian buttonhole makers. Near Forres, when we came upon the scene of the rebel forces, I noted that their chieftain was Stanley Clevenger, aided by such men as Lenwood Fultz and Richard Bromley. After receiving valuable information from Chalmers Bageant, another rebel, we succeeded in routing them.

Then I began some research work, trying to find the three witches named in The Tragedy of Macbeth, who were supposed to be located somewhere near Forres. These witches have the power of telling you the past, the present and the future. I went to them, hoping to see or hear what my old friends of the '29 class of Handley would be doing just twenty years after that eventful graduation night.

I found soon the dilapidated home, and rapped hard. I waited and a familiar voice said, "I'll bewich'a in a minute." I did not have time to think upon the literal meaning of the words before the door opened, and there stood Louise Hawley, now a bewitching witch. She invited me into the house, and as I looked about, who should I see but Margaret Hansbrough and Helen Jean Miller, slowly chewing and smacking their Wrigley's with utterous sounds? I told them the purpose of my visit and was soon gratified with the proposal that Louise should take me upon the magic broom. We started forth. She drove at breakneck speed across the sky with me sitting on the broom-handle in a very uncomfortable position. Soon there loomed into view the Handley School. Upon the roof I could see Dick Carpenter, now a professional chimney sweep, with Carl Campbell as helper, calmly working away.

My eyes roamed and at the end of the stadium, calmly sitting upon the top of the flagpole, I saw James March entered in another flagpole sitting contest, while on the ground stood Raymond Kerlin, now a prosperous funeral director, waiting for another prospect.

I looked over the grounds, and saw an arboretum with everything from English walnuts to honeysuckle growing there. I next saw John Taylor, William Grove, and Taylor Simpson, mowing grass, while Bobby Glass looked on and used a stream of profanity because Bill Kern was late again for work.

I decided to hunt more familiar faces so I hovered over the sidewalk. As I looked around, whom should I see but Prof. Stickles, carrying his brief case, wearing knickers, and purchasing some ice-cream from Red Wright, who now owned a hokie-pokie wagon. I saw Margaret Richards, Marguerite Smithey, and the Fries sisters, making their way toward the school, where they were now members of the faculty.

I looked around and saw John Fisher, still a leader, mayor of Winchester, having been put in office by George Hardesty, Marion Sutton, Jack Woods, and Forrest Secrist, who were now a crooked bunch of politicians representing the Mug Wump Party. I saw Joe Freed, now a retired chemist, who had given an endowment fund to the school for the protection of Homeless Orthropods.

Suddenly I found my eyes whirling, and, when I was myself again, found that I was back in familiar surroundings. I awoke in time to get Thursday's homework, having not been asleep, but day dreaming.

Class History

"Thou camest as a memory of a dream which now is sad because it has been true." SHELLY.

THE EMBERS lay dying in the fire-place as I puzzled over my Virgil translation. And then it occurred to me that this was the last Virgil that I would have; that the time for bidding farewell to Handley was not far off. I turned to the fire-place and as from the dying embers, I saw the twelve delightful years of school life flicker before me.

Twelve long years ago! From the ashes crept the forms of a hundred or more children, with primers tucked tightly under their arms, trudging gaily off to school. Many of the girls wore large ribbons on their hair done in pigtails or curls.

Before reaching the third grade, some of us had attended the Miller School, but now we were united in the John Kerr building. There we froliced and laughed all the way to the fifth grade. Along with fun, knowledge slowly began to creep into our contented minds.

Then, we became the gay inhabitants of the "chicken coops"! Temporary homes, of course, yet they have left a permanent and everlasting memory of the happy days we spent there.

With what joy and pride and good resolutions did we enter the Handley building in '24! Faster and firmer were the ties drawn, which have united our hearts to you, Handley. We studied diligently—our only thought to honor our school.

For the next year or two the only incident that threw a shadow on our life of mischievous pranks and hard work was the death of the girls' teacher, Miss Cooper, whom they remember not only as an instructor, but also as a sincere friend.

In the tenth grade we reached the period of organization and changes; and we elected Mrs. Bond and Mr. Bowles as sponsors. We also formed a dramatic club. New faces joined our group to take the places of those whose courage was not sufficient to win. The new faces, however, did not erase old memories, but carved niches of their own.

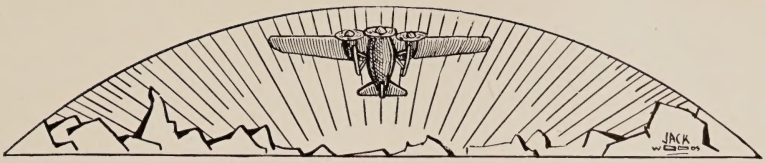
With Mrs. Bond and Mr. Green directing our class activities, we made much progress. Mrs. Bond, then whom no one could have found a truer friend or a more helpful adviser, died. Death is sorrowful, but we were young and life was ahead, so we continued our work. We elected Miss Robinson and Mr. Legge as efficient sponsors. Of course, the Junior year was completed by making the daisy chain, escorting the Seniors to the bonfire, and giving them a reception.

In excellent spirit we girded ourselves for the final lap. Lots of hard work, plenty of fun, sunshine and shadows have made this year one glorious day of sorrow conquered by joy.

And now the vision changed. A black wall rose out of the ashes. I saw many youths coming up to it. It was the wall which divided youth from maturity. We must climb over. Each must choose his own path in this life of maturity. Yesterday we were children. No call came to us from the future. We laughed, lived, and played—children. Today, life calls us, "to laugh, to love, to work" and to serve. The future calls and we shall give our best.

Memory, do not draw the curtain too tightly. Let us always be able to pull it aside and take courage from our beautiful school days of yesterday.

MADELINE FRIES.



Class Will

Class of '29

KNOW YE ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS, that we, the SENIOR CLASS of the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine, being of extraordinarily sound mental condition, do hereby revoke all previous wills made by us, and do bequeath to the understated to be administered by the executors:

THE SAID EXECUTORS shall be the Principal and Superintendent of the John Handley High School, at Winchester, in the Valley of Virginia. These said executors shall give bond for not more than twenty years or not less than one week: the time required for the execution of anything at Handley.

FIRST: To Miss Opal Robinson and Mr. Withrow Legge we give our most sincere appreciation and gratitude for their most able sponsorship in our last year at Handley.

SECOND: To one, known as James B. Yates, we lay aside the proceeds of a class collection to be put in trust and in due course of ten years to be used to send same to Rome to study Dramatics.

THIRD: To the Hon. John Norville Gibson Finley, we leave the privilege of acting as official policeman to our school, and in our corridors until said corridors are worn out.

FOURTH: To the whole student body we leave half interest in the Beech Nut Chewing Gum Factory and we know it will be thoroughly appreciated, as the student body is a great patron and customer.

FIFTH: To the body of students previously known as Juniors, we leave the title of Seniors, and give them the burden of buying Senior rings, publishing an annual, and holding class meetings at any inconvenient time the class officers see fit. We also leave them the right to produce a class play, and we recommend that they get the Hon. E. P. Browning to direct it, as he was an apt pupil of the late William Booth, and Charles Chaplin.

SIXTH: To the governing body known as the Executive Council, we leave the right to have meetings at three o'clock in the afternoon, argue about the price of football games, have a picture in the HANDLIAN, and accomplish nothing.

SEVENTH: To Miss Elma Hancon we give the privilege of toiling with her Glee Club, and to broadcast once a month from station N-O-I-S-E.

EIGHTH: To the student body we give full right to follow the lines of least resistance, and make whoopee in general.

However, this is not the chief reason of these students. They and their four other classmates, coming from other schools, desiring a business education, have come to take advantage of Handley's excellent course in business.

This course consists of Typewriting, Shorthand, Commerial Arithmetic, Bookkeeping and Office Practice.

We wish these ten business men and women a most successful career:

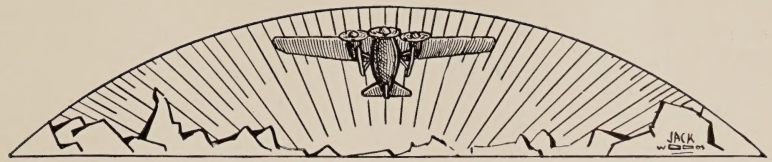
THE HANDIAN STAFF



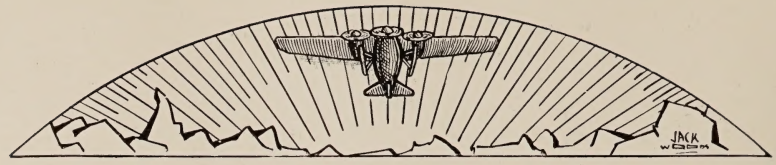
Trail Blazer

THIS IS the sixth year of the publication of our school paper known as the Trail Blazer.

An important change has taken place in this year's editions. Magazine forms are now being published, and all the material in it, including drawings and cover designs, is done by Handleyites themselves.

With Virginia Lupton and Mr. Browning at its head, it has surely been a success. The rest of the staff deserves much credit too. It includes:

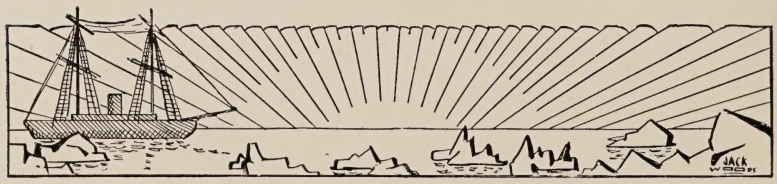
Associate Editors ..... Madeline Fries, Hathaway Fant, Dorothy Lupton
Literary Editor ..... Catherine McVicar
Poetry Editor ..... Margaret Eutsler
Art Editor ..... Sylvia Grim
Sport Editor ..... Edward Koons
Joke Editor ..... Kathleen Sutton
Exchange Editor ..... Esther McDonald
Business Manager ..... Harry Hammond
Assistant Business Manager ..... George Hawse



Holmes Conrad Literary Society

This is the fourth year of activity for the Holmes Conrad Literary Society. Miss Robinson and Mr. Quarles were its original promoters, so you see it was given a splendid start. The society's primary aims have been always to promote interest in literary activities, and to train its members in reading, public speaking and debating. Each year, possible representatives have been sent to participate in the state contest at Charlottesville. This year the officers for the first semester were Hetty Turner, president; Margaret Richards, vice-president; Virginia Russell, secretary; and Lillian Oakes, program chairman. The officers serving at the present time are Anne Tucker McGuire, president; Lillian Oakes, vice-president; Vernie Milburn, secretary; and Hathaway Fant, program chairman. The sponsors for the year are Mr. Finley and Mr. Browning; and the critic is Miss Grove.

We hope the society will keep up in the future the good work it has done in the past.

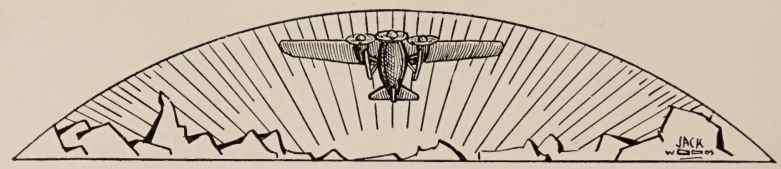


Bohemian Literary Society

THE Bohemian Literary Society was organized last year in order that there might be two Literary Societies at Handley. The aim of the Society is to promote interest in the art of reading, public speaking and debating.

The Society surely has progressed this year and we believe that it will soon be one of the most important of the extra-curricular activities at Handley.

The officers for the first term were: President, Margaret Eutsler; Vice-President, Walter Flickinger, and Secretary, Elizabeth Carpenter. The officers for the second term are: President, Madeline Fries; Vice-President, Lawrence Shank; and Secretary, Virginia Ann Huntsberry. Miss Payne and Mr. Hurt are most efficient sponsors of the Society.



Faculty Play

THE FACULTY show-off is one of Handley's traditions. It has always been a great event of the year.

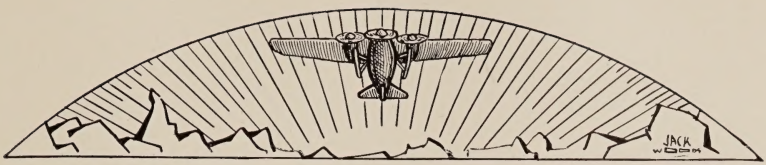
This year's performance was no exception, for the play couldn't have been better. Mr. Browning was a splendid director and was largely responsible for the perfection of the play.

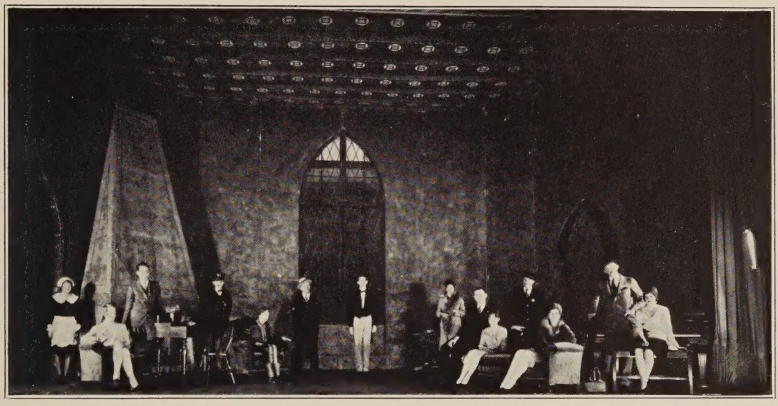
"Three Live Ghosts" was given by the talented actors. Handley surely is fortunate to have such a dramatic faculty. The scene of the story was in England and the time was right after the World War. The three live ghosts, Mr. Quarles, Mr. Finley, and Mr. Yates, were pals, who though reported dead were in reality very much alive. The story hinges around these three and their return to life.

Many of the students wonder what use is made of the proceeds of the plays. Sometimes they go to help the G. O. Last year, however, scenery was bought for the stage. This certainly was appreciated, for now school plays can be given with scenery for them.

Those who missed the faculty show-off have much to regret. The complete cast was as follows:

Mrs. Gubbins, known as "Old Sweetheart".....Miss Elizabeth Freed
Peggy Woofers.....Miss Katherine Byrd
Bolton, of the American Detective Agency.....Otis Sargent
Jimmie Gibbons.....Garland Quarles
William Foster, alias "William Jones".....Norville Finley
Spoofy.....James Yates
Rose Gordon.....Miss Virginia Boyd
Briggs, of Scotland Yard.....Edward Browning
Benson.....Luther Hale
Lady Leicester.....Miss Leona Lauck





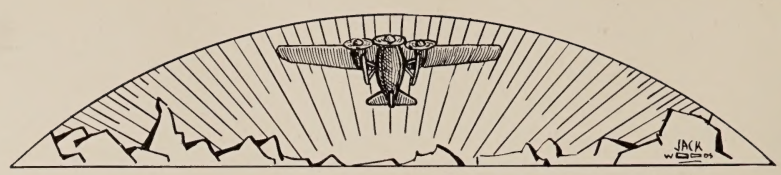
Senior Play

As USUAL the senior play was a huge success. Miss Robinson was its director, is there any wonder it was good? The play given this year was a very clever and entertaining one entitled "A Full House". It could be called a play without a hero, for about half the cast had prominent parts.

The plot of the story was a most interesting one, combining love affairs and stolen jewels. Every one's excitement was greatly relieved in the end when everything turned out all right and "they" lived happily ever afterward.

The seniors didn't know how much dramatic talent they had until the eventful days of the tryouts. Those who selected the cast agreed that never before had it been so difficult to decide upon a cast. Finally the actors were chosen as follows:

Susie ..... Georgia Foreman
Parks ..... James March
Ottily ..... Martha Lee Ritter
Howell ..... Raymond Kerlin
Daphne ..... Juanita Riley
Ned Pembroke ..... Lawrence Shank
Mrs. Winnaker ..... Virginia Ashley
King ..... Steele Wright
Mrs. Flemming ..... Marguerite Smithey
Vera Vernon ..... Louise Hawley
Mrs. Pembroke ..... Margaret Richards
Sergeant Daugherty ..... John Fisher
Mooney ..... William Grove
Clancy ..... William Kern



Dramatic Club

THIS YEAR a Dramatic Club was organized by the Juniors and Seniors. The following officers were chosen: President, Margaret Richards; Vice-President, Virginia Lupton; Secretary, Hathaway Fant.

The purpose of the Dramatic Club is to promote interest in dramatic work.

Our meetings are held on Tuesday afternoon and are open to all members of the Senior High School. We have had a number of interesting meetings in which we have studied plays and make-up. We are planning to study costuming along with our dramatic work.

We have presented one play in assembly entitled "When the Horns Blow." Under the sponsorship of Mr. Browning, we hope to present many more plays in the near future.

Orchestra

If one had occasion to linger in the school after three o'clock on Monday, he would hear sounds, variating from beautiful ones to terribly discordant ones, issuing from the Auditorium. One might ask what was happening. There is no occasion for alarm, for it's only the orchestra practicing. The orchestra is keeping up the excellent name it has made for itself. We hear it praised whenever it is mentioned. No wonder it is such a success, with such members and such a leader. Mr. McIlwee is certainly due a great deal of credit for creating our splendid orchestra. The members of the orchestra are as follows:

Bryarly, Thornton
Clevenger, William
Eddy, Richard
Fisher, John

Handley Band

UNDER the able leadership of Professor McIlwee the Band has become one of the most important factors of Handley. The boys have been constantly practicing and as a result they have surpassed the excellent work they have done in other years.

This year the Band played at the Faculty Play, the Senior Play and many of the other programs put on at Handley and they have added much to these programs. Besides participating in community and school events the Band was asked to be a part of the inaugural parade, held in Washington, March fourth. They accepted the invitation and paraded in the pouring rain, winning for themselves and for Handley singular recognition and applause.

When we realize just what a necessary part the Band has become we wonder how we ever did without it, and we have come to the conclusion that a school is not complete without one.

When our class graduates this year it will take a number of the boys from the Band but we know that there will be others just as efficient to take their places and we feel sure that it will continue to do the good work it is doing at present.

THIS YEAR Handley has again reached her goal of 100% membership in the Junior Red Cross. The membership dues were raised to ten cents and each student gladly paid.

Instead of filling Christmas stockings for the ex-soldiers, we contributed twenty-five dollars to the Children's Service Fund. This fund was established just after the war to help provide maintenance for homeless and destitute children in Austria and the other war-stricken countries.

The work has been well done and thoroughly enjoyed by those who have been connected with the Junior Red Cross this year, and it is our wish that Handley shall continue to support and cooperate with this great organization.

Cadet Battalion

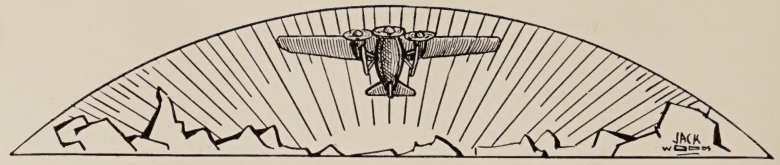
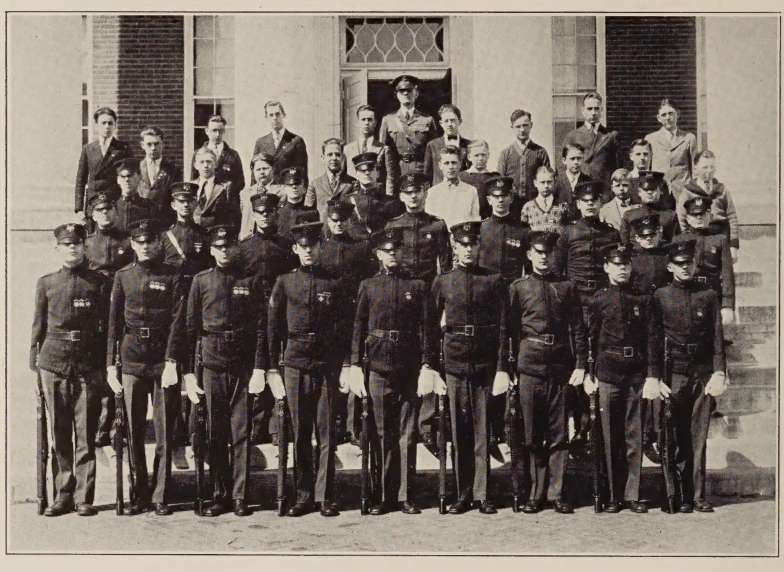
OUR CADET BATTALION has taken on new life this winter. Handley was indeed fortunate in securing as the commandant Major Goodier, who is teaching the boys something new along the lines of military tactics. He is teaching this year the life of an army in camp, military hygiene, and army life in general. He has organized also a rifle team, which has fifty members on roll. Some of the boys have already qualified for medals offered by the different rifle organizations.

Last year a competitive drill was instituted again with Massanutten Military Academy as the competitors. This drill was a victory for the Handley cadet corps. We received a beautiful cup, which we will keep until Massanutten wins a drill. This spring there is to be another drill and we are looking forward with pleasure to this meeting between old friendly rivals.



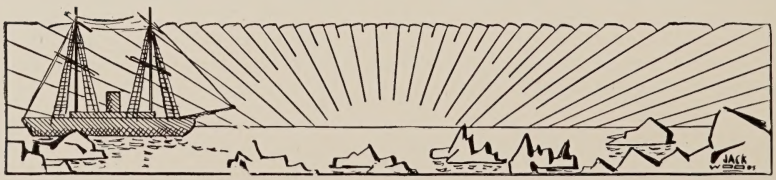


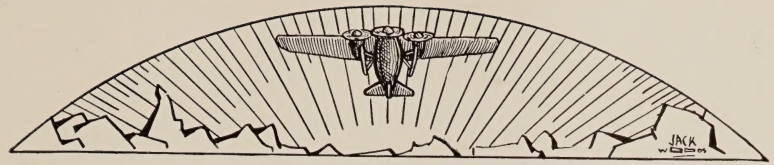
The Handley Rifle Club

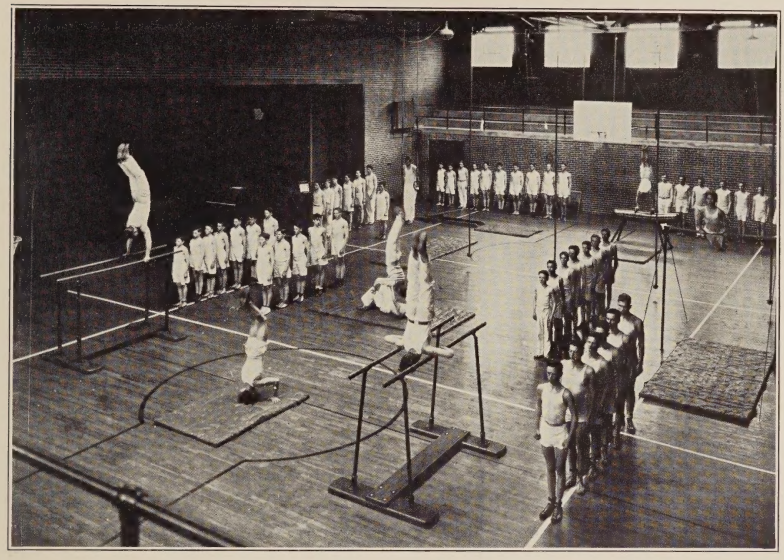
THE Handley Rifle Club, organized by Major Goodier, is enrolled as a club in the National Rifle Association Junior Rifle Corps. The Rifle Club has about fifty members at the present time. Ammunition is furnished the Cadet Battalion, by the Government, each year for the development of a rifle team. Many expert shots have been developed under Major Goodier's guidance this year.

The person making the highest score in the Corps Area Match wins a silver medal. The next highest score wins a bronze medal. The American Legion will present a medal for the best score made in the above match.

At the first meeting the following officers were elected: President, Edward Koons; Vice-President, Edwin Smith; Treasurer, Douglas Fisher; Secretary, William Kern; Executive Officer, Thornton Bryarly.







Boys' Physical Education

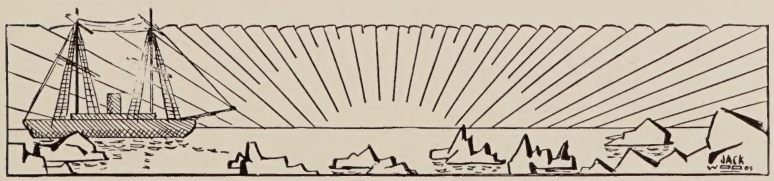
THE boys' physical training class, instructed by Otis Sargent, has accomplished a great deal this year. It has progressed by leaps and bounds in both interest and in achievements.

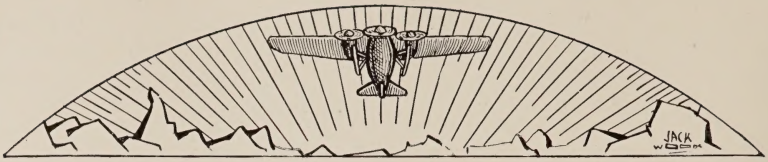
If a stranger should pass through our High School, he would want to see the physical training department and our "gym". All he would have to do would be to follow the crowd and finally he would be seeing things. Things happen in the gym that our parents can believe only when they visit there. Boys are taught to do acrobatic exercises which seem possible only for skilled athletes to do.

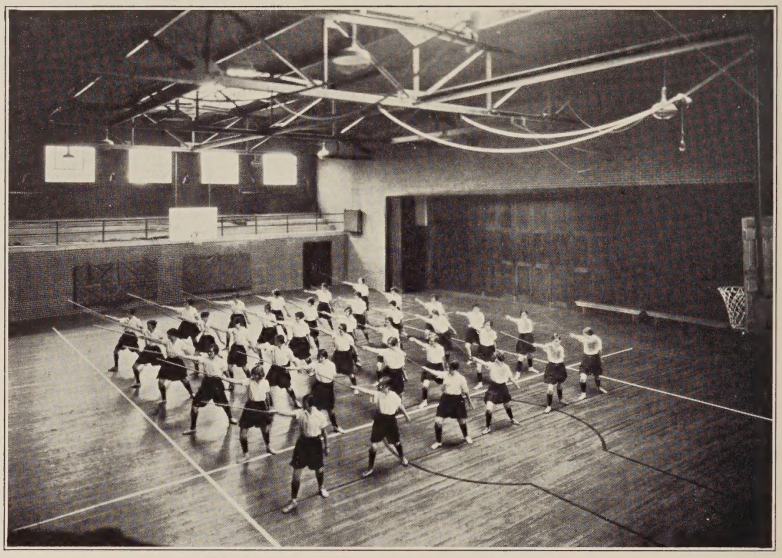
Every type of athlete is considered. Those who are not developed for strenuous exercises can begin by using light dumb-bells and gradually work into the more difficult exercises.

The gym team is becoming one of the outstanding organizations of the school, and has at different times given public demonstrations consisting of pyramid building, tumbling, drills, boxing contests, and numerous other exercises.

The largest of these entertainments was given March 21 in our gymnasium, when hundreds of parents and visitors were present.







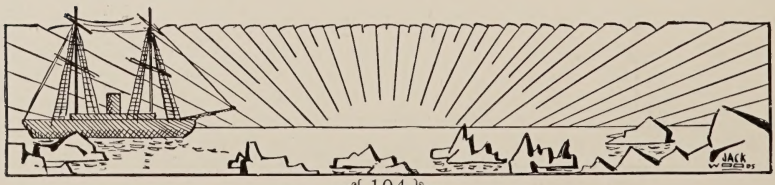
Girls' Physical Education

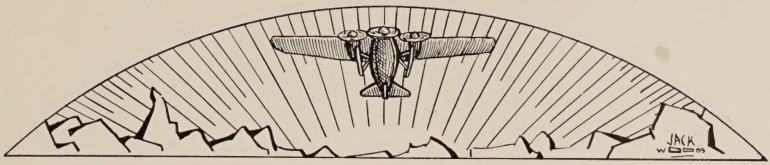
EACH of the girls' physical education classes spends two hours a week in the gymnasium, being taught to make their bodies work with their minds.

It is not all play. They have various exercises for developing muscles which give them both physical and mental activity. They have marching tactics, folk dances, and many wand exercises, which, on being used for exhibition, have received many favorable comments.

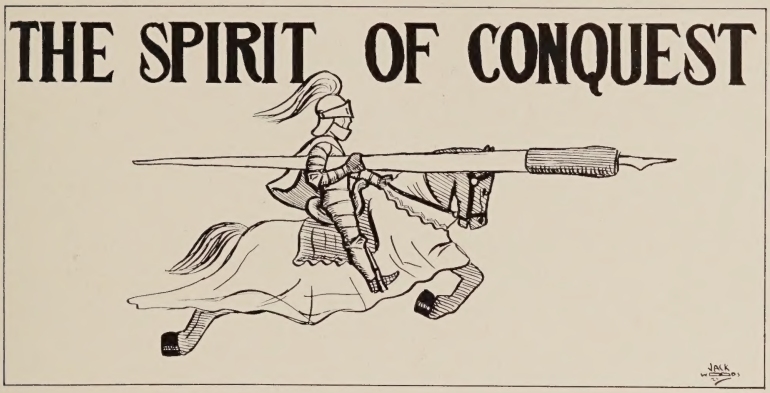
For recreation such games as volley ball, pin ball, touchdown, basketball, and baseball are used. This spring tennis becomes a possibility.

Our director, Miss Boyd, is efficient and very patient. Her snappiness puts a pep into classes that otherwise would be lacking and her interest in the work makes everyone look forward to the next Physical Education Class.





THE SPIRIT OF CONQUEST

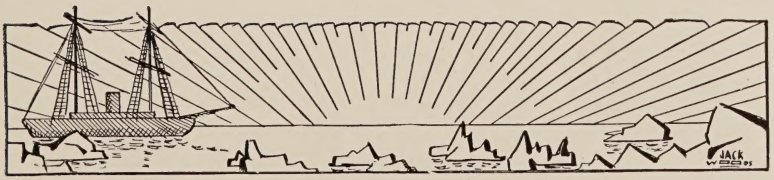


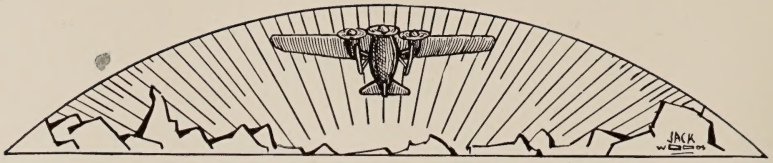
The Commander

His realm of adventure is boundless;
His kingdom, the endless sky;
His answer to the call of conquest,
An eager and joyful reply.
Undaunted by peril and danger,
Regradless of failure sustained,
He strives ever forward and upward
And on till success is attained.

Because of his love for his comrades,
His courage and forethought and skill,
Because of his unerring wisdom,
His steadfast, unconquerable will,
His name is carved in annals of fame,
And engraved in the hearts of men;
His deeds will go down in history,
Retold again and again.

ROSALIE NELSON.





En Avant

On! Push on! into the great unknown!
On! Sail on! into a boundless sea!
And be we legion or alone
Our cry shall ever be
En avant!

On! March on! with measured step and true!
On! Spur on! the goal we set is near!
Each on his high ideal pursue
And loud peal out the cheer!
En avant!

On! Press on! ye pioneers of men!
On! And on! your fame shall never die!
And tribes of every kith and kin
Shall lend ear to your battle cry
En avant!

On! Sail on! the sails are set and trim!
On! And on! nor in the tempest quail
No fury shall thy glories dim
Nor clamor drown the extolling hail!
En avant!

On! Pass on! ye heroes of the fight!
On! And on! your victories shall not die!
But onward through triumphant light
We shout again your echoing cry
En avant!

On! We follow! the Conquest Spirit seize!
On! And on! the mightiest shall reign!
With banner unfurled to the breeze
We follow, bearing our immortal strain,
En avant!

The Spirit of Conquest

RICHARD E. GRIFFITH, '30

CONQUEST is the destiny of the human race. It is the eternal desire of man. Hearts soar at the thought of conquests to come; pride swells at the thought of conquests past.

As long as man exists upon this planet we will have the Spirit of Conquest with us. The instinctive desire of man to better his condition, coupled with the perennial optimism of the race has lifted man from a naked savage to an arbiter of destinies. They will lift him still further. As long as man possesses the Spirit of Conquest and the will to incarnate the spirit, he will progress.

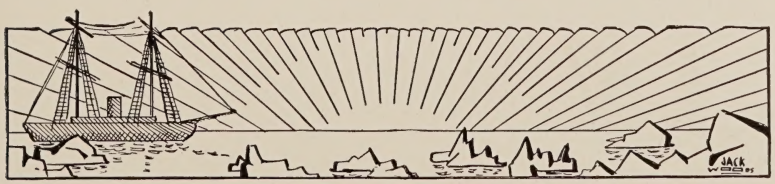
There are many kinds of conquest. There is the conquest of man over nature, which has enabled us to rule the world. There is the conquest of man over man in war, which has enabled us to rule each other. There have been many of these latter conquerors—Alexander, Caesar, Genghis Khan. The Earth has seen them come and go.

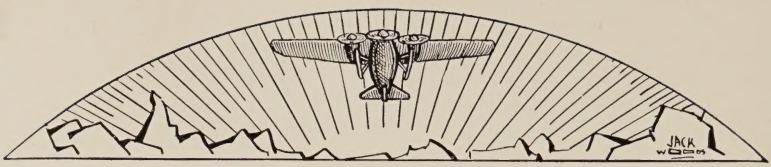
But after all, isn't there something sordid in these two interpretations of conquest? Both of them, martial conquest and the conquest of Nature, are usually made for the selfish ends of fame and gold for the conquerors. The real spirit, it seems to me, takes no thought of perennial gain, but conquers for the sheer joy of the conquest. That spirit is ever looking forward to see what is just around the corner, and when it has discovered that, it looks on to the next corner without stopping to enjoy the fruits of its first conquest. Historians and biographers have attempted to attribute motives of greed and pride to Columbus' desire to conquer the ocean, but it seems to me that if these motives had actuated him, he would not have dared such great dangers for such an uncertain gain.

Let us take a more modern example. Since Columbus' time most of the globe had been charted by explorers less altruistic than he. Only the vast ice wildernesses of the north and south, and the farthest reaches of the ocean have remained unexplored. When we think of these regions now, we think immediately of one name—Richard E. Byrd. He has dared the frozen north, and conquered. He has conquered the vast Atlantic, and now he is engaged in an undertaking more perilous and more thankless than any previous efforts. The great Antarctic continent which he is now exploring is the least known region in the world, and the most dangerous.

Some of us ask ourselves, "What does he expect to gain by this?" He expects nothing. No, his work is its own reward; he expects no other compensation.

There is something winged about such a spirit; something soaring. No wonder that it inspires the emulation of the youth of today. No wonder that they take as their emblem an air-plane against a field of clouds.





A Conqueror of Space

THAT GREAT Spirit of Conquest that instills itself in us creates restless pulsating desires. The desires that have been born of an unseen force, that compel and inspire us are the very core and center of all human accomplishments. The very desires that pursue and urge one onward make themselves prominent, introducing entirely new aspects of life.

It was this irresistible force, that forced Cyrus Field into the small line of great inventors. Field cherished the desire and idea to really produce something. Then coupling the ability with that Spirit to conquer, he set out on a long rugged road and completed what he set as a milepost along the highway of life. He linked the countries across the Atlantic with a few strands of wire to America. This connecting was his goal and he had reached it.

Here and there he ran against obstacles such as lack of funds or misfortune. They loomed as mighty mountains but with that "faith to move mountains" the obstacles vanished. His undaunted courage and ability were nourished and fed by that underlying desire and determination to succeed. Had these aspirations and resolutions been vanquished with the army of "don't care" it would not be Field who claimed the name of a conqueror of space, but some other who had heard the challenge of the unconquered and accepted.

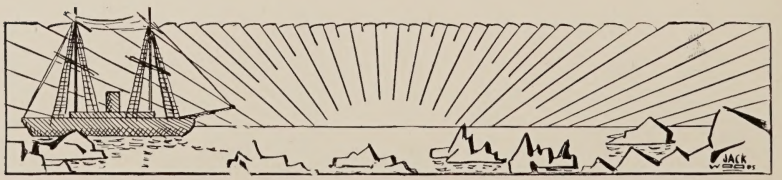
LUCY RITENOUR.

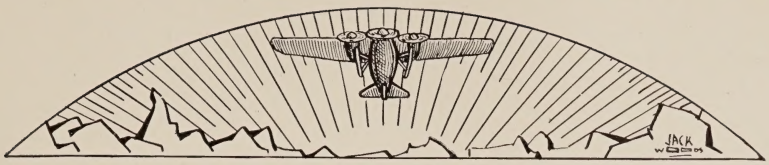
Pasteur As A Conqueror

PASTEUR, that noble French scientist, is undoubtedly one of the greatest men that ever lived. Although he discovered many things which are of importance to us; still, it is his life which should inspire us, the steadfastness, the unselfishness, the dangers which he was constantly undergoing, all for the good of humanity, these are indeed inspirations for us.

When we consider the countless numbers which have been saved in the past, by his discoveries, and the many, many thousands he will save in the future, we could rename him one of the "saviors of humanity". But what of these experiments, they were not accomplished in a night; they took years of sacrifice, and of service to perfect them. Sometimes, he worked with unknown qualities, sometimes with the most deadly diseases, but he worked on undaunted, struggling in the dark, until by his constant efforts, he finally reached light.

ELIZABETH SULLIVAN.





To the Spirit of Conquest

You drive, you force, impel me to go on,
And each new dawn
Must see me venturing into some strange land or new found work.
I cannot pause, you will not let me rest,
But I must press
Ever on until I reach the goal and meet and conquer all.

MARGUERITE SMITHEY.

Conquest of Self

I SAT ALONE, musing, in the twilight. How useless were the lives of most men! Only a few from all the millions were really great, only a few would ever be remembered. Yet, just a while ago the God whom men call just, had called one of the most promising youths to leave the fight. And I was left! I who had no talents: I who could never be of any use to my country or my fellow men. As I sat thinking, these things, suddenly from out the dusk I seemed to hear a voice say, "You too shall have a chance to do a great deed. It is not always those who conquer tangible, visible things who are greatest. A greater conquest awaits you. Conquer yourself."

Here indeed was a challenge for every youth. Before any conquest can be made, that very important thing called self must be conquered. Man is a mass of primitive desires and passions which must be subjugated and held in control. He must have complete power over his mind and his body, before he can hope for success. Good habits must be formed, the thoughts and passions must be restrained and where bad habits have been allowed to take root these must be torn away. 'Tis not an easy task, for sometimes when we think we've made the conquest, at some unguarded moment we find ourselves yielding to other powers. It is these weak spots for which we must watch, and, like the scout, we must ever be prepared.

Sometimes the task of conquering self seems almost endless and useless. It is a thankless job and the names of those who make the conquest will never go down in history, will never be remembered through the ages. Yet, surely, it is a worthwhile purpose, for within our hearts we will know that the victory is ours, and with this knowledge will come the power for other conquests.

They sing of men who've conquered land and sea
And yet they have not one small song for thee,
Oh thou the greatest of them all
Oh thou who conquered self!

Lee, the Reconstructor

Prize winning essay VERNIE MILBURN

THE PERIOD immediately following a war is a crucial one in the history of any nation. Bitterness, jealousies, dislikes, misunderstandings are carried over long after peace is declared. Fortunate indeed is the country which has a man who can help erase these sentiments. And such a man was Lee.

Picture to yourself the South to which the Southern soldiers returned. Their homes were burned, their crops destroyed, their beautiful green fields trampled under. In many cases the result of years of labor was completely wiped out.

Is it to be wondered at that their hearts were bitter against the North or that they were too discouraged to begin on the rebuilding of their once beautiful South?

Here it was that Lee began that work which was to make him as famous in peace as his great courage and skill had made him famous in war.

He understood the Northern viewpoint as perhaps no other Southerner could. He had been deeply in sympathy with the principles for which the North had fought. He had adopted the Southern cause because he loved his State and his fellowmen too deeply to engage in war with them, however worthy he deemed the cause.

He knew that now the war was over the North was doing the very best it knew for the South, but that it did not, could not understand the conditions under which the South was laboring. He knew that those ruthless profiteers who were bleeding the South were only that element in every community which is ready to grow rich on the misfortunes of others.

His mind, his heart were too great, too open to hold one trace of bitterness.. He knew that in order to make the North and the South one it was necessary that there should be no bitterness on either side. He tried to impart his own keen sympathy and understanding wherever possible.

He knew, too, that the great hope of the Southland was in its youth. The older generation was too much broken, too much embittered by the terrible experience it had been through to completely forgive and forget. Many, many years would be necessary for a complete reconstruction of the South, and the youth would then be men and women, who would take up the work of their elders. Well would it be if they might do their part with their minds untainted by that bitterness which could not be wholly erased from the minds of their parents.

With this idea in mind Lee became a teacher of the youth of the South. His calm, benign countenance, his tender, loving words, his deep honor, so much a part of him, so endeared him to his boys that he was loved as perhaps no other teacher has ever been loved.

Into their minds he instilled his own love for the Southland, his own ideals for the union of North and South, his own beautiful sympathy and understanding of the two factions.

In this work he passed away, having done his part which has so richly blessed succeeding generations.

1928 Football Review

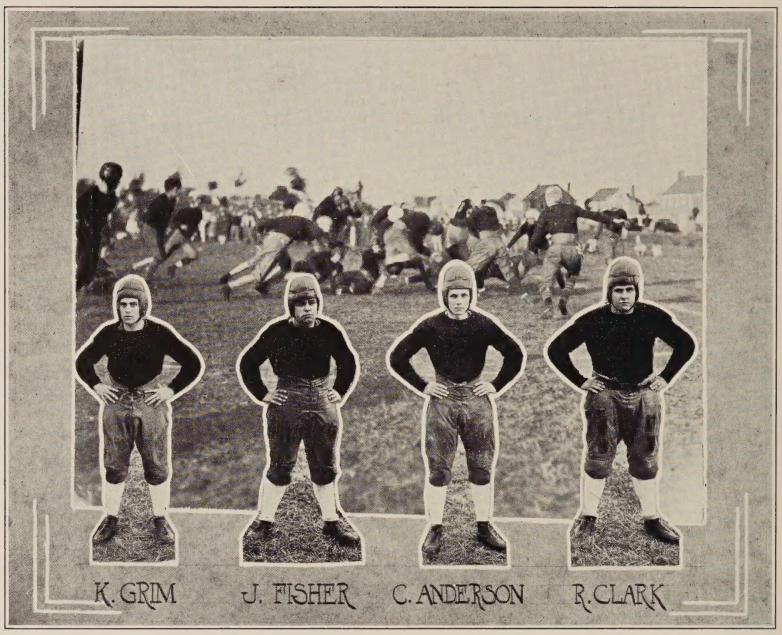
UNDER all conditions and against all the odds which attended many games, the Judges upheld, with true Handley fight, the tradition which her teams have handed down each year.

Victories were scored over Randolph Macon Academy, St. John's Academy, and Leesburg High School. From the standpoint of the best fought contest, the one with Staunton ranks at the top. Every man on the team played great football. To the small crowd of Handley rooters the game was satisfying in every respect except the 3-0 score against her when the final whistle had blown.

The season, on the whole, was a success, and much credit is due the team that made this possible. The prospects for next season are unusually bright and there remains more material than ever before for the building of a powerful team.

"Snag" Sargent deserves a great deal of praise for his efforts to put out a winning team. With the available material and more support from the student body, Handley will be heard from next year.



KENNETH GRIM

Half-Back

Ht. 5 ft. 6 in., Wt. 140 Lbs.

Not being eligible for League games was quite a drawback for our Captain. However, his spectacular playing in the R. M. A. and St. John games showed his ability as a back-field man.

JOHN FISHER

Tackle

Ht. 5 ft. 10 in., Wt. 185 Lbs.

Fisher's brilliant work in the line, during his past three years on the team, has won him a reputation for gut and determination, as well as for strength and deadly ability in tackling.

CHARLES ANDERSON

Quarter-Back

Ht. 5 ft. 8 in., Wt. 145 Lbs.

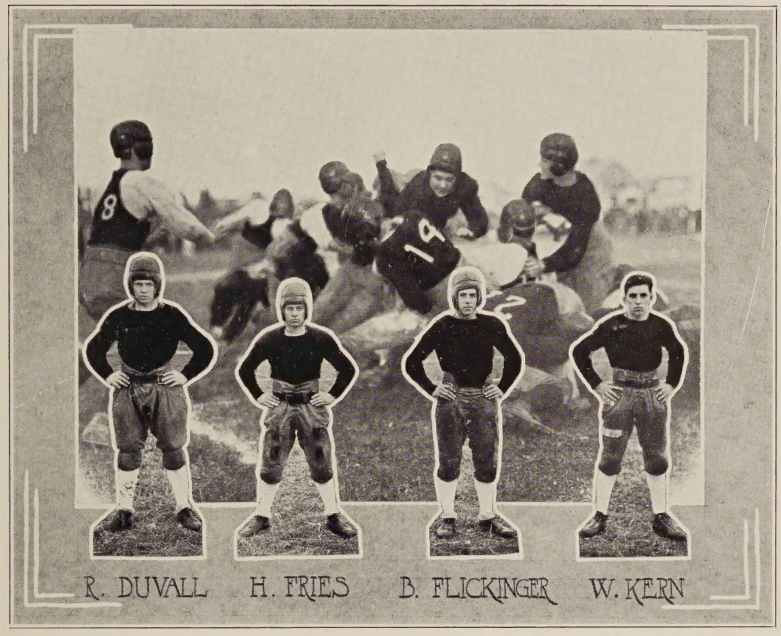
One of the most valuable men for "Non-League" games, Anderson will be remembered for his broken field running and his kicking, which often helped Handley out of close quarters.

RALPH CLARK

Full-Back

Ht. 5 ft. 8 in., Wt. 185 Lbs.

Clark was one of the men who could play a whole game and still be going strong when the last whistle blew. He will have two more years of football at Handley, and much is expected of him.



RICHARD DUVALL

Half-Back

Ht. 5 ft. 8 in., Wt. 140 Lbs.

Duvall was one of the most valuable and consistent players in the back-field. His passing and punting abilities helped the team out many times.

HOLMES FRIES

Half-Back

Ht. 5 ft. 8 in., Wt. 145 Lbs.

"Bat", one of the fastest men on the team, will be remembered for his speed and ability in open field running. He will be one of the star back-field men to return next year.

BROOKS FLICKINGER

Full-Back

Ht. 5 ft. 10 in., Wt. 150 Lbs.

At the start of the season Flickinger's ability as full-back soon was recognized. His speed and all-round good playing in the Staunton battle was one of the features of the game.

WILLIAM B. KERN

Quarter-Back

Ht. 5 ft. 10 in., Wt. 145 Lbs.

Kern, one of the pluckiest backs Handley ever produced, disdaining a head-gear as "in the way," played a fierce and dashing game. His graduation this year deprives the squad of one of its most faithful members.

CARL CAMPBELL

Tackle

Ht. 6 ft. 3 in., Wt. 160 Lbs.

One of the most consistent, hard-working men on the team, Campbell distinguished himself by his strength to the line on the defence. Campbell will be lost this year by graduation.

WILLIAM GROVE

Guard

Ht. 5 ft. 11 in., Wt. 209 Lbs.

Grove possessed a great amount of endurance. He showed a fighting energy and power which held back many a thrust at his part of the line.

DOUGLAS CATHER

Guard

Ht. 6 ft., Wt. 175 Lbs.

Cather proved himself a strong man in the line, being especially effective on the defence. He should be a valuable asset to the Handley squad next year.

STANLEY CLEVENGER

Center

Ht. 6 ft., Wt. 170 Lbs.

Clevenger with his strength and ability stopped many attacks of our opponents through center. He will be an asset wherever he goes next year.

JOHN TAYLOR

Tackle

Ht. 6 ft., Wt. 185 Lbs.

"Beefy" was a hard player. Many a runner has felt the impact of "Beefy's" shoulders and felt himself dropped in his tracks.

JOHN JACKSON

End

Ht. 5 ft. 11 in., Wt. 145 Lbs.

Jackson just came into his own during the last season, and from the very start he played the game like a veteran. He will be one of the good men available for next year's team.

J. ANDERSON

End

Ht. 5 ft. 9 in., Wt. 140 Lbs.

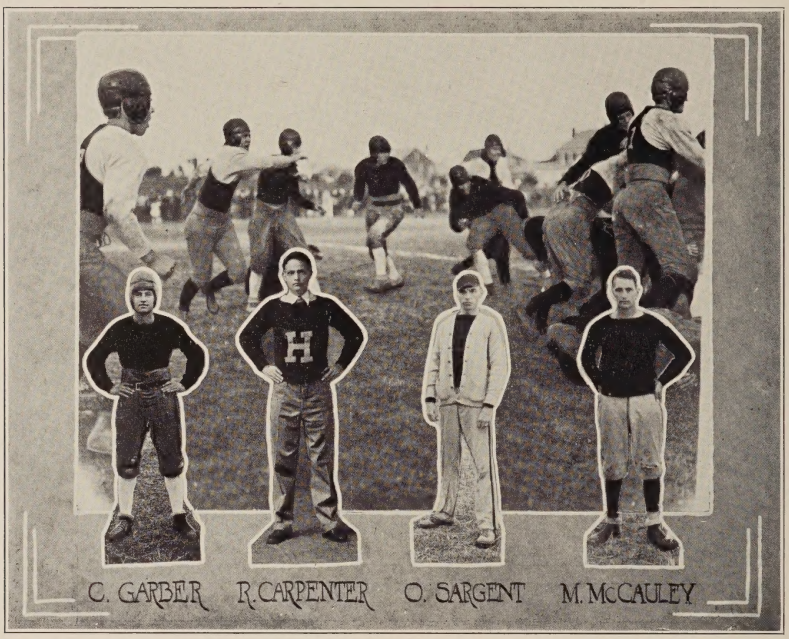
Anderson was one of the many ends who fought for a position on the team. He won his letter by his loyal and consistent service to the team.

TOM KREMER

End

Ht. 5 ft. 8 in., Wt. 135 Lbs.

"Tommy" was undoubtedly one of the best ends on the squad. His playing is of finished and smooth quality. He will be one of the veteran ends available for next year's team.



GARBER

End

Ht. 5 ft. 9 in., Wt. 145 Lbs.

Garber was a sure and fearless tackler and a remarkably fast man in running down punts. He earned a well-deserved position on the team and held it in faultless style.

RICHARD CARPENTER

Manager

Ht. unknown, Wt. same

The football team was fortunate in having an ex-player for a manager. Carpenter's energetic and agreeable personality has won him a good name among the members of the 1928 football team.

"SNAG" SARGENT

Coach

Although handicapped at the first of the season, "Snag" gave his entire energy and time to the support of the team.

"MACK" McCAULAY

Assistant Coach

"Mack" was Snag's very able assistant. He received most of his experience at S. V. A.

1929 Basketball Review

THE basketball team came before the public after having been absent from the school activities for the past two years. Only new material was available and from this material Handley developed her team.

While the season was not a startling success, it certainly could not be termed a failure with four victories out of fourteen games. The team opened the season by winning three of the first four games. Then, after two losses, it came through with another victory, which was the last for the team this season. After this the team lost many games by only a few points. The second game with Randolph Macon Academy was undecided until the last few minutes, when the cadets drew slightly ahead, winning 29-22.

Handley has developed some good men for next year's team, and with the experience and skill which they acquired this season, they will be among the high scorers of the C. V. A. L.

1928 Track Review

DUE TO THE success of the track teams in the past, the student body has manifested more interest in this branch of athletics. Mr. Greene, a college track star, coached the nineteen hundred twenty-eight team through a successful season. The track team lived up to expectations in the meet at Blacksburg. There a team composed of Fries, Huyett, Snider, Bageant, and Clevenger won the Seventh Annual Agricultural Track Meet. Three school records were broken during the season—one by Clevenger, who threw the shot forty-one feet, ten and one-half inches; one by Snider in a broad jump of twenty feet and five inches. The other one broken was the record for the relay.

The Cumberland Valley Athletic League Track Meet will be held at Handley the latter part of May. The letter men from the twenty-eight team are Captain Kern, Bageant, Flickinger, Fries, and Clevenger. Using these and other old track men as a nucleus, we expect "Snag" Sargeant to coach a team this spring which will be victorious in the C. V. A. L. meet.

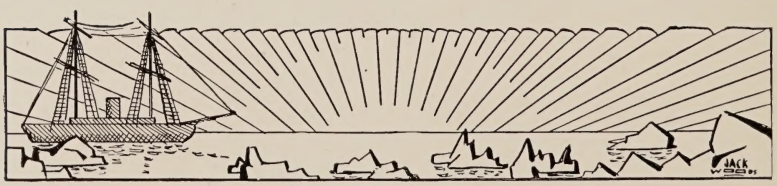
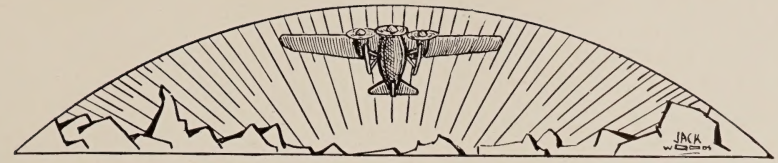
Volley Ball—Shamrocks

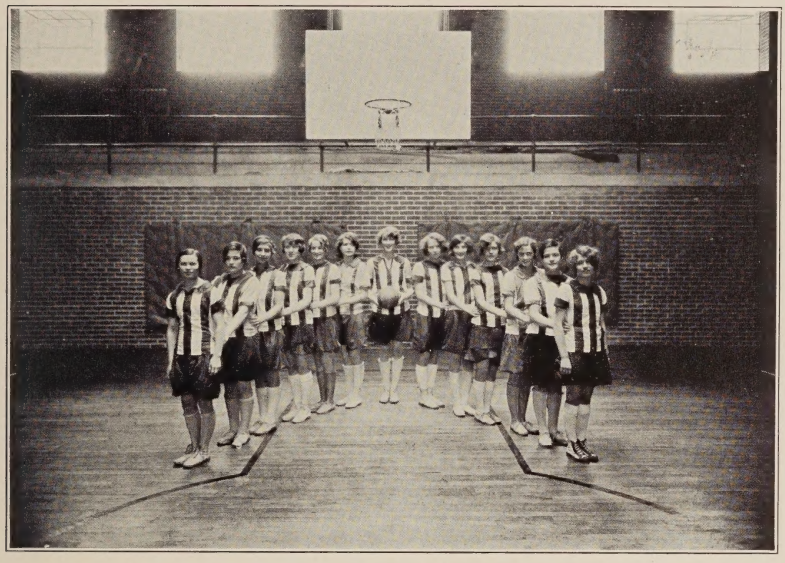
THE SHAMROCKS were defeated by the Orange Jackets in the series of volley ball games. It was not without a grand and glorious combat, however, for the good serving and volleying of the Green Team was very hard to overcome and the Oranges had no easy time doing it.

With Marie Fries as Captain, the Shamrocks fought hard until the final whistle blew. They surely lived up to their Irish name, because the smiles they wore during the games did not fade after they had been defeated.

The Green side may be proud of this team which upheld the Handley ideals in sportsmanship and it may look forward to a good squad next year.







Volley Ball—Orange Jackets

HAIL to the victors! They came—to the gymnasium; they saw—the Shamrock Team; they conquered—in three games out of four. Four enthusiastic, exciting and interesting games. Some were won easily; other victories required such a fight and vigorous effort that could come only from those Orange Jackets under the leadership of their Captain, Louise Hawley.

If ever you want a girl to serve—of course in volley ball—just ask an Orange Jacket. There's not one on the team that can't wield such a ball that invariably adds a point to their score. And volley—Those girls were like a stone wall. Just send a ball over the net to them and like a boomerang it's back again.

The scores were as follows:

	Oranges	Shamrocks
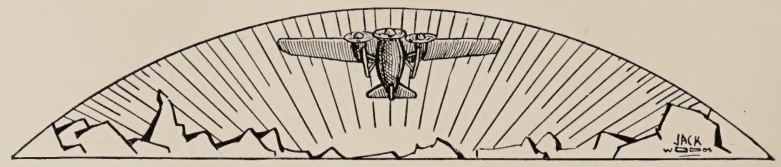
First game	15	9
	15	14
Second game	14	15
	15	14
	13	15
Third game	15	9
	15	7
Fourth game	15	9
	15	5



Basketball—Orange Jackets

THREE exciting games the Orange Jackets lost to the Shamrocks. And exciting they were, too, which was proved by the enthusiastic cheering of the rooters.

With Margaret Richards leading the Oranges, they showed wonderful team work and an unquenchable fighting spirit. Nor were they lacking in speed and accuracy.

Although many members were new in basketball and on the team, clean sportsmanship and fair play prevailed throughout all the contests.

Three cheers for the Orange Jackets! As good losers they cannot be excelled.

The line-up was as follows:

Richards, Margaret	Forward	Henry, Margaret
Clark, Mattie	Forward	Riley, Juanita
Preffitt, Frances	Guard	George, Frances
Grim, Charlena	Guard	Crisman, Sybilla
Hollis, Vivian	Center	White, Hortense
Hershberger, Vivian	Side Center	Fant, Hathaway Madeline Fries

Basketball—Shamrocks

WHO won basketball? Why, the Shamrocks, of course. Having won every year since they started, they have made a tradition as victors which must ever stick to their Irish name.

Marie Fries and Gladys Kroog as forwards were an invincible pair, making the score roll up higher with each moment of the game. Eagle and Lupton were perfect bulwarks of strength as guards. In the center Nelson, Captain of the Shamrocks, and Hirth were like streaks of lightning.

The whole team worked like a well-oiled machine. Their pass work was remarkable. No wonder they won!
